REQUEST FOR DELAY MADE BY GROMYKO

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
GENEVA (AP)—The Big Four foreign ministers today postponed their talks for 24 hours at the request of Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko.

The postponement was announced shortly before the ministers were scheduled to meet at Gromyko's villa.

The Soviet foreign minister requested the delay during a private luncheon with British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd. Lloyd quickly obtained agreement from U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville.

The postponement will allow Gromyko another day to consult Moscow and study the new Western compromise formula for a stopgap Berlin settlement. It was assumed the Soviet government still had not reached a definite decision.

Western spokesmen had made it clear that a rejection of the new formula by Gromyko would mean the end of the six-week-old foreign ministers conference.

Some high Western officials considered this only a tactical maneuver to give the Kremlin the appearance of seriously considering the Western offer before torpedoing it.

Others thought Gromyko actually wanted time to get new instructions from Premier Nikita Khrushchev and that some major Soviet concession might be forthcoming.

British Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd and French Foreign Minister Maurice Couve de Murville were agreed that if Gromyko came into today's secret conference session with the clear intent of bargaining, they were prepared to make reasonable changes in the plan.

But it was said they would not weaken the key demand that the Soviet Union pledge not to interfere in the West.

Beck and Cohorts Deny Charges in Jury Indictment

NEW YORK (AP)—Former Teamsters President Dave Beck and two trucking company officials have denied there was anything wrong in a $200,000 loan made to Beck by the other two while he headed the Teamsters Union.

Indicted Wednesday by a federal grand jury were Beck, 64; Roy Fruehauf, president of the Fruehauf Trailer Co. of Detroit; and Burge Seymour of New Preston, Conn., president of Associated Transport, Inc., New York.

Fruehauf and Seymour said the loan, since repaid, was made to Beck because he had previously made them loans when they needed them.

The indictment charged them with violation of the Taft-Hartley Act, one section of which prohibits union officers from accepting payments from management officials, and vice versa.

Woman Jury Member Tips Off Liberace He Won Suit

By DENNIS NEEDLE
LONDON (AP)—A gray-haired woman member of the jury that awarded Liberace libel damages of $8,000—$22,400—against a British newspaper turned up at his hotel afterward and told newsmen she thought he was wonderful — "a real smasher."

Three minutes before the high court verdict was announced Wednesday, the woman, Mrs. Jean Friend, 49, had given the American piano player a broad wink to tip him off that he had won his suit against the Daily Mirror.

"Woman in Liberace jury sensation," headlined the Daily Herald.

Mrs. Friend's wink came as the court reassembled to hear the verdict. The jury was out 3 hours and 22 minutes.

Liberace, wearing a subdued dark gray suit and a patterned

John Coyle, wanted for slaying a police officer, is led by state police from woods in Middleboro, Mass. His brother was killed during a gun battle that climaxed a wide hunt for the pair.

Host to Gangland Gathering Takes Secret To His Grave

JOHNSON CITY, N.Y. (AP)—The man who played host to one of the largest gatherings of gangsters in the annals of crime in this country died Wednesday night.

Joseph Barbara, who suffered a heart attack May 27, carried with him to the grave another key to the mysterious meeting of 60-odd hoodlums and friends at Apalachin, N.Y., on Nov. 14, 1957.

The 53-year-old, short, one-swarthy, bespectacled Barbara, shriveled and paled by illness, had lived on the fringes of death since he fell unconscious at his home in nearby Endicott May 29.

He lost the fight for his life at 7:35 p.m. But he won his fight never to divulge the sinister meanings behind the crime cabal at his plush, hilltop estate.

Despite repeated efforts to have him break his silence, Barbara evaded questioning by pleading illness.

Only last April it looked as though state investigators finally had him cornered. A State Supreme Court justice ordered Barbara, ill or not, to testify before the State Investigation Commission, an agency that has managed to jail some of the delegates to the underworld meeting for refusing to talk. No date was set for Barbara's hearing, however.

In his only public appearance after the gangland meeting, Barbara, looking drawn and haggard, sat silently in a wheelchair in U.S. Dist. Court in Syracuse April 27 while his attorney entered an innocent plea for him to charges of evading payment of nearly $40,000 in federal taxes.

Barbara died in Wilson Memorial Hospital during a routine visit by his wife, two sons, and a daughter.

Barbara had suffered a heart attack prior to the gangster convention at his home in 1957. In fact, many delegates to the

Chemical Value of Human Body Hiked

BROWNSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Inflation has finally caught up.

For years scientists have estimated the value of the chemical contents of the human body at 98 cents.

But on the basis of present day prices, the value has gone up to $1.17, says Tom Keller, instructor of chemistry at Texas Southmost College.

Senators Score "Defenseless" Patrol Fighters

By JACK BELL
WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators set out today to make it as certain as possible that American patrol planes fly with guns loaded and in working order in the future.

Sen. Styles Bridges (R-NH) joined Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex.) in a demand that steps be taken to see to it that no American plane again is as defenseless as the converted Navy antisubmarine plane strafed by Communist MIG fighters over the Sea of Japan.

Bridges, chairman of the Senate Republican Policy Committee, and Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, are top members of the Senate Preparedness subcommittee. Johnson said this group, which he heads, will decide on the basis of a Navy Department report what course it will take in the inquiry.

Navy airmen said Wednesday that a communications mishap and two useless gun mounts in their patrol plane had left them at the mercy of the Communist fighters when their one operative gun in the tail assembly was knocked out. The tail gunner was wounded before he could fire a shot.

The U.S. Navy opened an investigation in Japan into the fall

Kane Family Having Rush on the Hospital

KANE, Pa. (AP)—Mrs. Carroll Paulson gave birth to her first child Wednesday night, a girl, in Kane Community Hospital. She is, however, only one of five in her family who are or who have been in Kane Hospital in the past few weeks.

Mrs. Paulson's sister, Mrs. Jean Nelson, is currently a patient for surgery. A niece, Brenda Carter, was dismissed Wednesday after having her tonsils removed. Cindy Nelson, another niece, had her tonsils removed last week.

Finally, Mrs. Paulson's father, Walter Simpson, was dismissed from the hospital last week after a gall bladder operation.

QUEEN OVER ATLANTIC IN JET AIRLINER

By KELMAN MORIN
ST. JOHNS, Nfld. (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip sped over the Atlantic in a jet airliner today to start a 45-day tour across Canada.

The sun came out here after several days of coastal fog.

This raised expectations that the royal plane would land at St. Johns as originally scheduled, though arrangements had been made for it to put down if necessary at the U. S. Air Base in Argentia, on Placentia Bay 85 miles southwest of this city.

The ceiling at Torbay Field, the St. Johns airport, lifted to 600 feet in midmorning and all regular air traffic there resumed. Argentia reported a ceiling of 300 feet with prospects of fog.

The Queen's plane took off from London at 7:05 a.m. (EST) and was due in Newfoundland about 12:30 p.m. (EST). With her and her husband were 11 attendants.

Long States He Plans To Be Candidate

NEW ORLEANS, La. (AP)—A weary but determined Gov. Earl K. Long was back in Louisiana today, confined to a $22.50-a-day hospital room overlooking the Mississippi River bridge his brother built.

Long, 63, returned Wednesday night from a 19-day stay in a Galveston, Tex., psychiatric clinic. The return trip began as he stated firm intentions of resuming his duties as chief executive of his home state.

The extent to which this will be possible, at least immediately, remains unanswered.

Nearly a dozen doctors began checking today the physical condition of the ailing governor, who vows he will seek an unprecedented fourth term in December.

Doctors at the Ochsner Foundation Hospital removed the telephone from the governor's "medium priced" room. They insisted a "no visitors" ban include politicians.

Decides Girl Insane When She Killed Parents

MAUSTON, Wis. (AP)—A jury decided Wednesday night that attractive Jane Dakin, 17, who likes to read Shakespeare and play the piano, was insane at the time she killed her wealthy parents.

The Circuit Court jury of 11 men and one woman, after deliberating three hours, found that Miss Dakin was innocent on two counts of first degree murder because she was insane at the time of the act. This was the plea she had entered for her trial.

The girl admitted shooting her mother, Elizabeth, 43, and then her father, Thomas, 46, with an automatic .22-caliber rifle the night of Dec. 1. Seventeen shots were fired from the gun, most of them striking the parents. Afterward she went to a friend's home and told of the double slaying.

Proposal for White House Parley Shunned

NEW YORK (AP)—Top negotiators for the steel industry and union say they would rather work out a contract settlement here themselves than be called to the White House for talks.

The statement was made by David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America, and R. Conrad Cooper, chief negotiator for the 12 largest steel companies and executive vice president of the United States Steel Corp.

McDonald and Cooper expressed the view after being informed of President Eisenhower's declaration that he did not intend to call union and management representatives to the White House in a move to prevent a strike.

Republicans Say Governor Underestimating Expected Income From Present Taxes

HARRISBURG (AP)—House Republicans and Democrats were at odds today on revenue estimates for the next two years—an important factor in determining just how much new tax money must be raised by the Legislature.

Rep. Albert W. Johnson, Republican floor leader, said Gov. Lawrence has underestimated the yield from existing taxes in the next two years by from 40 to 50 million dollars.

This, together with cutting back the estimated deficit by 19 million and chopping the governor's budget by 60 million, can reduce the need for new taxes to less than 100 million dollars, he said.

But his Democratic opposite number, Rep. Stephen McCann, took issue in a separate interview with Johnson's figures.

"We will not accept revenue estimates that will prove to be a farce and cause another deficit two years from now," McCann said.

He said artificially increased revenue estimates in other years always have resulted in the Legislature faced with the problems of financing deficits.

The give-and-take on revenue estimates was a sparring match serving as a prelude to a joint House-Senate conference in the next two or three weeks to arrive at precise budget figures.

The governor himself already has said he would not be a party to artificial revenue estimates, an expedient often used by the legislature to force a balanced budget after the problem of increasing taxes becomes too rugged.

Lawrence says 207 million dollars in additional taxes must be enacted to balance his proposed $1,870,000,000 budget, more than double the figure now offered by Johnson.

Other legislative developments before the House adjourn Wednesday until next Monday:

Telephone manners—The House passed 190-0 a bill to make it a misdemeanor to use lewd, lascivious or indecent language on the telephone. The measure went to the Senate.

Legal holiday—The House defeated a proposal to make Monday a legal holiday.

Workers At S-W Return to Jobs With Pay Hike

Struthers Wells employees returned to their jobs today ending a three day walkout.

Workers went back to work with a new one-year contract and a 3.6 per cent wage increase. The new contract expires June 14, 1960.

The negotiating committee met with company officials Tuesday. In a general membership meeting in St. Joseph's hall Wednesday, the committee reported the company's offer to the strikers.

It was unanimously voted by the 177 employees present to return to their jobs today with the new contract and pay hike.

International Association of Machinists, Lodge 1323, called the walkout midnight Sunday, 208 people striking against Struthers. General feeling in the community was for a rapid settlement.

Fed. Court Voids School Closing Law in Arkansas

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—A three-judge federal court today voided a state law under which Gov. Orval E. Faubus closed Little Rock public high schools last fall against integration.

The court added the governor's proclamation shutting down the four schools was void.

The Arkansas Supreme Court in a 4-3 decision, recently upheld the disputed act but the three federal judges called it unconstitutional.

In the same ruling, the federal judges held invalid a companion state law which diverted public funds from the closed schools to others to which displaced pupils transferred.

The second act, the court said, was a device for depriving the Little Rock School District of funds to which it properly was entitled.

Pittsburgh Holdup

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Two men, one with a gun, tied up eight employees of a North Side tobacco and candy wholesale firm today, then fled with $600 in cash and $2,900 worth of merchandise, including cigarettes and cigars.

The holdup occurred at the J. C. Reed Co. on Monterey St. The thugs followed Charles Meyer, a salesman, into the office when he reported for work.

100 PERSONS HURT AND SCORES OF RESIDENCES LEFT IN RUINS BY STORM

By ROBERT D. CLARK
MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—The Greater Miami area's first tornado in 10 years struck near bedtime Wednesday night, leaving at least 100 persons injured, some of them seriously.

"You just don't get that kind of damage from a straight wind," said forecaster Paul Moore in identifying the vicious storm.

It was the first twister to hit the southeast Florida coast since the late 1940s when a tornado ripped up property during a hurricane, Moore said.

Scores of bayfront homes were left in wreckage amid tangles of tree trunks, signs and overturned automobiles as the storm leap-frogged over a 12-mile path. Hundreds of persons were driven from their homes.

An 11-year-old boy, Frank Vasellotti, was reported in critical condition with head injuries.

Nearly 80 persons, some seriously hurt, were treated by hospitals, police, and civil defense units mustered on a disaster footing. In all, about 100 were hurt, the Florida Highway Patrol said.

No one was reported killed.

Harshest hit was a four-block residential and business area around the 79th Street causeway where police Sgt. Stewart Cooley estimated the loss would run at least to one-million dollars.

It missed downtown Miami.

L. S. Pope, picked up bleeding on the causeway, said he was on the second floor of a five-family dwelling when its roof blew off. His bed was flung into the air.

Don Shoemaker, who lives in the area, said: "I've been through two tornadoes and have never seen anything like this. It looked like a bomb had hit."

Mrs. Nola Cone, 40, scrambled out of the wreckage of her bar with six patrons, shaken but unhurt.

"I've seen Oklahoma tornadoes but none like this," she said. "I heard this roaring sound and yelled 'Everybody hit the floor and get under something.'"

Then it struck. Bottles flew through the air. The cash register—it takes two men to lift it—fell off the counter. Parts of the ceiling fell down.

Speedy Trial For Surviving Coyle Brother

WAREHAM, Mass. (AP)—Desperado John J. Coyle, 24, whose brother, William, 22, was killed in Middleboro Wednesday, was turned over today to police of Philadelphia, his home cit.

There he will face a charge of murdering a Philadelphia policeman.

Cole waived extradition before Judge L. Francis Callan.

Coyle pleaded guilty in a barely audible voice as the clerk of the court read off a series of complaints charging him with assault with intent to murder two Massachusetts policemen; armed robbery and assault with a dangerous weapon; kidnapping; larceny of an automobile; and with being a fugitive from Pennsylvania justice.

Coyle's younger brother, William, 22, was mortally wounded by police in an exchange of gunfire at the edge of a Middleboro cranberry bog Wednesday.

Bombs Explode During Castro's TV Appearance

HAVANA (AP)—Four bombs exploded in Havana Wednesday night during a television appearance by Prime Minister Fidel Castro.

Castro during his telecast made no mention of the bombings, which occurred in areas of the city away from the TV studio.

There were no reports of injuries or damages from the bombings, which were reminiscent of tactics used by Castro's underground during the terrorist campaign in Havana against President Fulgencio Batista.

Castro told his TV audience he would unmask elements of the press he accused of campaigning against his government.

Obviously nettled by editorial and other criticism of his land redistribution program, he said the newspapers would prefer to forget the "corrupt past and all the immoralities of past governments."

Girl Discovers Human Skull On Island North of Hemlock

FBI was expected to be contacted soon to assist in establishing sex, age and approximate time of death of a person whose skull was found on Dixon Island above Hemlock Wednesday.

The skull, believed to be that of a woman, possibly past 30 years of age, was found by 16-year-old Becky Templeton, of 101 Prospect street, about 4:10 p.m. Wednesday.

Becky had taken her canoe from the summer residence of her father, Russell W. Templeton at Hemlock and rowed to the island, second of two above Hemlock, in search of frogs.

Browsing around on the island, the young woman came upon the skull which was lying on top of sand about eight inches from the water's edge.

"It was sitting there just like someone dropped it," Becky recalled.

Miss Templeton, who will be a senior in Warren High this September, did not recognize the skull when she first saw it. Walking closer, she recognized it as a human skull and put it into her boat.

Taking it home, Becky phoned Borough Police Chief Mike Egan who contacted Sheriff Linder and Coroner Ed C. Lowrey. Becky said she put the skull "on the back porch where it stayed" until officials arrived.

Linder was making a check today into missing persons in Salamanca and Olean and other towns north of Warren. Salamanca has yet to find the remains of a 12-year-old boy who drowned about five years ago.

Officials decided the skull is

Royal Party To Land At Argentia Because of Fog

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II and Prince Philip left by jet airliner today for a 45-day tour of Canada.

Fog will force the royal party to land first at the U.S. airbase at Argentia, Nfld.

Bad weather over St. Johns, the Newfoundland capital, forced British Overseas Airways Corp. to switch the landing spot. Fog has shrouded much of the rocky coast of Newfoundland for days.

From Argentia, the Queen, Prince Philip and their 11 attendants will make the 85-mile trip to St. Johns by car.

The shift in the landing spot postponed the Queen's arrival ceremonies at St. Johns about three hours, until late afternoon, and meant a curtailment of her first drive about St. Johns.

Canadian warships and planes were posted on the comet's flight path in the Western half of the Atlantic in case of trouble. British vessels and the Royal Air Force furnished protection along the first half of the route.

Kindergarten Pupils Follow Instructions

CUMBERLAND, R.I. (AP)—For several days the 84 boys and girls "graduating" from a kindergarten class were drilled to say "thank you, Mr. Nevins," when presented them diplomas.

But Nevins was unable to attend the ceremony Wednesday and Miss Lillian I. Hannan, the principal substituted for him.

The first 33 children in line said "Thank you, Mr. Nevins," when Miss Hannan presented the diplomas.

The 84th said "Thank you, Mrs. Nevins."

Spring Creek Tax Program Strikes Snag

Corry Journal: Spring Creek Township's board of supervisors and the school board as well are embroiled in a semi-legal hassle over the situation created by Warren County's just completed reassessment of real property.

Since the school board had a May 30 deadline to come up with a tax structure for the coming school year, that body went ahead using assessment figures then in effect. School tax notices are due in the hands of taxpayers on July 1st.

As a result, school taxes there have been set at 35 mills, identical to the millage of the last school year. The schools also levy a $5 per capita tax, a $5 head tax and a one per cent wage tax. These, say the board, will not be changed by the new assessment until next year.

The township board of supervisors is still up in the air over tiring tax collector Walter Maxwell. Maxwell, during a recent visit to the Warren County Commissioners' office, was told by a clerk there that to delay for a year, the levying of taxes using the new assessments would be illegal.

Maxwell countered this with the reply that the county itself is forcing what amounted to an illegal situation in insisting that Spring Creek go ahead using the new assessment rates.

The veteran tax collector pointed out that, in order to take advantage of the first tax discount period, township tax forms must be in the hands of taxpayers not later than July 31st. Since the new county assessments were made available just recently, Maxwell told the county aide that it was not possible to accomplish the mechanics of the program in time to make this deadline.

As a result, he said, if Spring Creek did go ahead with the new figures, taxpayers would get their tax notices too late to take advantage of early discounts.

The board of supervisors has yet to call a meeting to prepare new tax levies, and with the growing assessment muddle there, the date of such a meeting is undecided.

However, Maxwell said, the supervisors have planned to meet and will do so as soon as the air clears around the county buildings in Warren.

Deaths from Flu And Pneumonia Show a Decline

HARRISBURG — A decline in the number of deaths from pneumonia and influenza in Pennsylvania last year (1958) was reported by the State Department of Health.

Records of the Department show 3,494 Pennsylvania residents died from pneumonia and influenza in 1958, representing a drop of 2.8 per cent from the 3,833 deaths caused by the respiratory diseases reported in 1957. The diseases ranked sixth among the most frequent causes of death in Pennsylvania last year.

The pneumonia and influenza death rate for the state was 34.2 per 100,000 population in 1957 and 31.5 in 1958. The rate for the United States in 1957 was 35.8 per 100,000 compared to an estimated 33.1 for the nation in 1958.

The state figures for 1958 show a decline of more than 60 per cent from the 1940 pneumonia and influenza death rate of 67.1. Pennsylvania's lowest rate was recorded in 1954 when there were 22.1 deaths from pneumonia and influenza per 100,000 population.

Deaths of newborn infants, attributed to pneumonia, were not included in the 1958 totals, but the Health Department records show 228 babies died from the disease less than four weeks after birth.

Among children under 15 years of age, pneumonia and influenza were the third most frequent causes of death. They ranked fifth in the age groups 15 through 24 and over 64 years. For persons aged 45 through 64 pneumonia and in-

Two Drum Corps Competitions in Boro This Year

Plans for the two drum corps competitions to be held in Warren this year were the topics discussed at last Sunday night's executive meeting of Corn-planters Drum and Bugle Corps.

Appearance of the corps at four Class A competitions this year was also discussed.

Plans for the 4th of July standstill competition, co-sponsored by Warren Jaycees, were given a final rundown, and from all reports a delightful afternoon of colorful units and snappy music is in store for Warren people.

The 4th annual Spectacle of Music will be held on August 1st, and five Class A competing corps are scheduled to appear in Warren. Among them are the Geneva Appleknockers, 6th ranking corps in the national last year, Rochester Grey Knights, 8th in the nation last year, and The Edison Lamplighters, from Detroit, Mich., 13 in the national competition last year. Also two corps from Canada, The Marching Ambassadors and a possible entry, The Port Dalhousie Guardsmen.

Jack Barr, corps business manager, reported the Corn-planters will definitely appear in three, and possibly four, Class A competitions this year. On July 11th the corps will be in Falconer, on the 25th in Kittanning, on August 29 in the Oil Centennial Competition in Titusville, and one Niagara Falls contest is not definite yet.

Intensive rehearsals will be held in the next three weeks to polish the Cornplanter's show. A new rehearsal method has been worked out by Bugle Sergeant Ken Carlson, and with the thorough instruction of Drill Instructor Jim Senger, it is expected the Cornplanters will present a very competitive field corps this summer.

The Corps will compete at Brookville Saturday, and Brant, N.Y., Sunday.

Data Set for Forthcoming '60 Wheat Quota Vote

As required by present law, a wheat marketing quota referendum has been announced for July 23, 1959, Chairman Earl Groff of the Pennsylvania Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee announced today.

Marketing quotas for the 1960 wheat crop have been proclaimed by the Secretary of Agriculture, as required by legislation whenever the available supply of wheat is more than 20 per cent above the normal supply. However, quotas will not become effective unless they are approved by at least two-thirds of the producers voting in the referendum.

If quotas are approved for the 1960 wheat crop, it will mark the seventh consecutive year they have been used for wheat. Wheat quotas and acreage allotments apply only in the 39 so-called "commercial" wheat States, of which Pennsylvania is one.

The present law, the Chairman explained, states that, to be eligible to vote in the referendum, a grower must expect to have more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest, as grain in 1960. A wheat grower who signs an application under the feed wheat provision permitting him to produce up to 30 acres of wheat as feed on his farm will not be eligible to vote. Every wheat grower will be informed of the individual wheat allotment for his farm in advance of the referendum date. Warren County farmers will be given the privilege of voting at the county office, 2nd floor, Court House Annex.

If quotas are approved in the referendum, the present law provides that farmers who comply with their wheat acreage allotments will be eligible to market all their wheat without restriction. A grower who exceeds his allotment will be subject to marketing quota penalties on his excess wheat if he has more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain. If quotas are not approved, there will be no restrictions on wheat marketing.

BUSINESS BRIEFS

NEW YORK (AP)—The paper-board industry turned out a record 330,025 tons of board last week and operated at 98 per cent of capacity, highest in more than a year, according to the National Paperboard Assn. Last week's output was 14 per cent greater than a year ago.

NEW YORK (AP)—Specialty Electronics Development Corp. said it designed and built for the U. S. Army and automatic "weather bureau" which can be set up as a complete, unattended observatory supplying key data to a central office.

The company calls the device an automated weather man. It is a steel cubicle 7 by 7 by 8 feet and weighs less than a ton. The "bureau" is equipped to report by teletype its identification, air temperature, dew point, wind direction and velocity, barometric pressure and rainfall.

The device is designed to operate unattended and automatically, taking observations and reporting data to a central location.

Common Use of Endrin Harmful, Officials Warn

Fluza were found to be the most frequent fatal diseases. They ranked seventh for persons aged 25 through 44. Seventy per cent of the deaths from pneumonia and influenza occurred among people over 45 years of age, and approximately 18 per cent among children less than five years old. The remaining 12 per cent of the deaths were distributed among persons five through 44 years.

The statistics show a ratio of 14 males deaths for every female deaths from pneumonia and influenza in Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG — Human lives are endangered by the careless use of "Endrin," a compound widely used to destroy orchard mice, the State Health Department has warned.

Dr. C. L. Wilbar, Jr., State Health Secretary, says there are reports of incidents in which amounts of the highly-toxic substance have entered Pennsylvania streams, resulting in fish mortality and the death of livestock. In at least one case a public water supply was endangered, he reports. "Endrin" is available commercially in concentrate, powder or dust form.

"Indiscriminate use of this poison means an ever-present threat to persons using water likely to be contaminated by spills or runoff of 'Endrin,'" the Secretary declared. "We naturally are concerned with effects of this substance on fish and other animal life. But we are more concerned with what is most important — human life."

Dr. Wilbar called for "extreme care" in any application of the substance since natural drainage or runoff after rains can carry the poison to streams used for water supplies or for recreational purposes.

Dr. Wilbar urged orchardists and others not to deposit any "Endrin" directly into a stream; nor to rinse spraying equipment, clothing, or hands in a stream after applying the substance; and particularly not to spray where there is any possible chance that "Endrin" will find its way into a stream, because its toxic effect is long-lived.

The maximum time between drinks for the average camel is eight or ten days. If it were not required to work during this period, it could probably last longer.

SUPPORT THE CELEBRATION

Wednesday's edition carried the preliminary schedule for the Jaycee's eleventh annual Fourth of July celebration. Once again it appears that Warren, through the efforts of the Jaycees, will be the scene of the most ambitious and colorful celebration of our nation's independence in northwestern Pennsylvania. Each year the color, pagantry and excitement of Warren's Fourth of July program attracts thousands of visitors to our community. They come because they know they will find a program of inexpensive and quality entertainment.

Gordon Drum, General Chairman for this year's Celebration, advises us that over 10,000 man hours will be expended by the members of his committee to insure the smooth functioning of the program. Total cost for the many events scheduled is estimated at over $6,000. No one pays the Jaycees and other interested citizens for the many hours they devote to planning and staging the spectacle but someone must pay for the cost involved in doing so.

The Jaycees went to you, the citizens of Warren, last winter to determine whether or not you wanted a Celebration this year and only decided to go ahead when they received overwhelming confirmation from the public. You can help support the Celebration by sending a contribution, however small, to: Jaycee Celebration Committee, Box 147, Warren. Your financial support is urgently needed to insure the success of the Celebration this year.

PROCLAIMS FATHER'S DAY

Governor David L. Lawrence has issued a statement designating June 21, 1959, as "Father's Day" for Pennsylvania. The State Executive says: "The Fathers of our land built our great democracy through sound teaching and sturdy devotion to liberty and love of freedom. We took to the Father in the home as the mold of tomorrow's citizens, and the builder of good family life."

"The importance of good ethics, fair play, peace, integrity and brotherhood throughout the world is the foundation of our future. We look to the fathers of today to guide our young citizens in these commendable qualities."

"As Governor of this Commonwealth, and as a Father, I am happy to proclaim Sunday, June 21, as 'Father's Day' for Pennsylvania."

WORLD TODAY

By JAMES MARLOW
 Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Bouncy Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev may have had President Eisenhower guessing what's on his mind. Now Eisenhower probably has Khrushchev a little puzzled, too.

That's because Eisenhower seemed to be agreeing with the Russian on one point, but not quite, and softening Wednesday what he said two weeks ago but, as it turned out, not quite.

It all started months ago when Khrushchev made a threat: either the Allies get their troops out of Berlin or he would turn over to the East German Communists control of the ground, air, and rail routes leading to Berlin.

This would put the Allies in a pickle. They refuse to recognize the German Reds as the lawful government of East Germany. But if the Communists shut off their supplies to East Berlin, they'd have to deal with them or fight.

And dealing with them would be a form of recognition. At the same time Khrushchev called on Eisenhower to meet him at a summit conference where all kinds of things could be discussed. That would include Berlin.

Eisenhower said nothing doing unless, first, the Soviet and Western foreign ministers met and, second, they showed some progress.

Khrushchev reluctantly agreed to the foreign ministers' meeting but low-rated its importance. He argued only the top men make decisions. Therefore, the ministers are errand boys. So, he claimed, a foreign ministers' meeting just wastes time.

The ministers met and made no progress. At his June 3 news conference, Eisenhower seemed to agree with Khrushchev that the ministers are only transmission belts for the top men. "These foreign ministers are, after all, acting for someone else... and these matters (such as Berlin) have to be brought back and studied carefully," Eisenhower said.

But he seemed to attach much more importance to the ministers at his news conference Wednesday. He said they are "people who go to conferences clothed with a great deal of authority."

Next he appeared to be leaning a bit toward Khrushchev's view. He pointed out the ministers, every night after their day's session at Geneva, have to communicate with their governments back home.

He said they provide "the mechanism... through which (agreements) are supposed to be obtained."

But then he parted company with Khrushchev, if he ever was in his company, by refusing to agree to any assumption the ministers' meetings are useless. He implied that unless they prepared the ground for a summit meeting, there was no sense in holding one.

But it was on another point—Berlin itself—that Eisenhower may have left Khrushchev scratching his head.

At his June 3 news conference Eisenhower emphasized that the Russians had created the Berlin crisis and then called for a summit meeting to settle it.

Before there is a summit meeting, Eisenhower continued, the Russians should agree the Allies can stay in Berlin until the whole problem of German unification is settled. In effect, since it won't be settled for a long time, this meant indefinitely.

Here and There

The Salamanca Republican Press has this comment to make on the latest "Kinzua Dam Decision": Among those who have followed closely the long series of developments affecting the Kinzua Dam project, little surprise was occasioned by Monday's refusal of the U. S. Supreme Court to review the decisions of lower Federal courts upholding the right of the Federal government to flood part of the Allegany reservation of the Seneca Indians and denying an injunction sought by the Seneca Nation. Such a refusal to review was to be expected under circumstances, briefly stated, were these: Congress had passed acts authorizing the Kinzua project as part of a vast flood control plan for the upper Ohio Valley. An attorney for the Seneca Nation sought an injunction, claiming that the action taken by Congress was not legal because of a provision in an ancient treaty, which the Senecas claimed guaranteed that their use of the land would not be interfered with. The Government claimed that the action of Congress was legal, and opposed the injunction. A Federal District Court denied the injunction. The attorney for the Senecas appealed to the U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals. That court confirmed the decision of the District Court. It held that Congress could authorize the taking of the Indian land by right of eminent domain, just as the Government has power to take property of non-Indians. It also held that Congress had exercised this power. Counsel for the Senecas sought to have these decisions reviewed by the nation's highest tribunal. The Supreme Court on Monday denied such review. Thus the ruling of the lower courts stands. In reporting the Supreme Court action, The Associated Press account says this "removes the last legal obstacle to construction of the $113 million flood control dam at Kinzua." That appears to be a simple statement of fact. Disputes over the relative advantage and disadvantages of so called "alternatives" to this plan of flood control and pollution abatement were not before the Supreme Court.

Vacationers, 94 per cent of them traveling by automobile, will spend some $1.25 billion in Pennsylvania in 1959 as better cars and better roads send some 76 million persons in 28 million cars on auto holidays throughout the nation, according to Roy L. Cook, vice president of Universal C.I.T. Credit Corporation. "Approximately 30 million out-of-state tourists will visit or pass through Pennsylvania during the year," Cook said, "with June through October being the most popular period. Income from tourists now ranks fifth among the sources of income in the state." Cook's firm, Universal C.I.T., is the nation's independent automobile finance company. "Even though the overseas vacation has grown tremendously in popularity in recent years," he said, "the typical U. S. vacationer still relies on the family automobile for the most convenient and inexpensive holiday."

Domestic vacation travel in the U. S. this year, he pointed out, will account for the spending of almost $18 billion. "The vast majority of U. S. families will continue to depend on automobiles for vacation travel," the executive said, "because it is the most economical way to travel, it permits the vacationer to stop and go as he pleases, change his mind, take side tours and stay in convenient and attractive motels." Regardless of the length of the trip or the age of the car, Cook emphasizes, the best insurance for a happy holiday is to take the car back to the dealer for a thorough pre-trip check-up. Driving is carefree, he points out, when there are no worries about lights, tires, wheel balance, wipers, plugs and brakes. The executive of the nation's largest independent automobile finance company also advises the vacationer to take along a flashlight, a wheel jack, a lug wrench, and, if possible, flashers or flares to warn other drivers in the event of an emergency roadside stop at night. A couple of wood blocks are handy for wheel chocks if a tire must be changed on a hill. He also reminds the state's vacationers to check the expiration date of their auto insurance before leaving and to make sure the insurance card, driver's license and registration papers go along on the trip. The average auto vacation, he says, will cover more than 1,400 miles and last about two weeks.

There'll be a bright new look and a feel of greater comfort in more than 300 passenger cars on the Pennsylvania Railroad by the end of 1959 as the result of an expanded improvement program announced by the road today. The refurbishing program, already under way, has been implemented by a new appropriation of $1 million, the Pennsylvania said, nearly doubling the sum originally allocated to improvement of passenger equipment this year. This budget is in addition to the more than $20 million spent annually by PRR for daily maintenance and repairs to passenger equipment. The improvements include interior renovation as well as overhaul of air conditioning and heating systems, repair of seat, door and window mechanisms, and reconditioning of wheels and trucks. A number of coaches will be decorated with colorful automobile-style seat coverings of woven fabrics with simulated leather trim, vinyl plastic floor tile and two-tone plastic paints in four different color schemes; each the harmonizing tones of a single color—red, blue, green, or brown. The additional $1 million appropriation will overhaul and completely refurbish 35 coaches for the railroad's through East-West service, and recondition, as needed, 69 other coaches, 22 parlor cars in the New York-Washington service, and 56 coaches for commuter service. Extensive overhaul and redecoration of 60 coaches and 23 dining cars, as well as a number of mail, baggage and express cars, were scheduled in the regular program at the start of the year. The total improvement program for 1959 thus covers 270 coaches, 22 parlor cars and 23 diners. All of the work is being done in the Pennsylvania's own shops.

Matter of FACT

Eleven of the 13 original states had private navies, but they were small and suited only for local defense. On Oct. 30, 1775, a navy was authorized by the Continental Congress. John Paul Jones, as a senior lieutenant in the Continental Navy, raised the Grand Union flag on the ship Alfred, the first ship to be commissioned, on Dec. 3, 1775. The Alfred had 20 nine-pound guns, and was the flagship of the young American fleet.

TICKS: HANDLE WITH CARE

Ticks are a menace to anyone who walks, camps, or works in fields and woods. There is always a possibility that these tiny creatures will be infected with the organisms that cause Rocky Mountain spotted fever.

This disease was thought originally to be confined to the west but cases have been reported from most of the states as well as from Canada, Mexico, and South America. The disease has lost some of its sting since a preventive vaccine and good remedies became available. Several antibiotics such as chloromycetin and chlorotetracycline are excellent treatments if started early.

There is no substitute for prevention. The vaccine is a boon to those who work in tick infested areas but is not recommended for every Tom, Dick, and Harry who plans two weeks in the woods. These vacationers can get along well with insect repellents and by wearing clothing that is tight at wrists and ankles, boots, and a one piece outer garment impregnated with a tick repellent.

In addition, the body should be inspected at least once a day for the invaders. If any are found, remove carefully—don't crush or squeeze them. Ticks burrow into the skin head first and back out whenever their posterior is touched with gasoline, lighter fluid, or a lighted match. It may be necessary to apply traction with a tweezer held close to their head. Disinfect the area with soap and water after the tick is extracted. Use a tweezer also when removing ticks from dogs because the contaminated tissue juices can go through abrasions in the fingers if the tick is crushed.

Rocky Mountain spotted fever is a miserable ailment that resembles a super flu. The condition develops approximately one week after being bitten by the tick and strikes abruptly with severe headache, chills, generalized aching, and a temperature of 104. The victim is so weak and toxic he does not care to get out of bed.

The typical rash arises on the fourth day, beginning on the hands and feet and spreading to the rest of the body. Blood tests are not positive until the end of the second week so that the physician must rely on his judgment and findings to decide whether treatment should be started.

Dr. Van Dellen will answer questions on medical topics by letter if stamped, self-addressed envelope accompanies request.

TOMORROW: Ova that go astray.

D. F. writes: Can drop foot be relieved or cured?

REPLY
 Yes, depending upon the cause, and whether the affected nerve in the leg is capable of regeneration. New tests are available to make this determination. As a last resort the foot can be held up by a brace or by having the ankle stiffened through surgery.

IRRITABLE HEART

U. J. writes: What is an irritable heart?

REPLY
 I assume you refer to the palpitation and shortness of breath that occurs in some nervous individuals. The heart beats rapidly in much the same way as it does when a person is frightened, excited, or emotionally disturbed. But the irritable heart hyperreacts to these and lesser emotions.

HEREDITY AND FEARS

T. S. writes: Some of my friends believe that a woman can transfer fears and other emotions to an unborn child. Can this happen?

REPLY
 There are many persons who believe that the unborn child reacts to emotions, but this is impossible to prove. On the other hand, a mother who is ridden with fears and anxieties may rear a child who follows suit. This, in my opinion, takes place after, rather than before, birth.

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON

AP Business News Analyst
 NEW YORK (AP)—One American industry that hasn't "priced itself out of the world market" despite high wage scales says today one reason its overseas sales are dwindling is that its prices are so low.

The coal industry says it is being barred from some markets by prohibitive tariffs or import quotas and is having trouble in a few others because of continuing dollar shortages.

Dr. Ludwig Erhard, West Germany's minister of the economy, promised during his recent visit here that his country's tariff on American coal would be lifted as soon as surplus German coal piled up at Ruhr pitsheads could be straightened out.

President C.E. Finet of Belgium, president of the European Coal & Steel Community, who is here this week, also thinks his organization will have the coal glut licked before too long.

American coal producers hope so, but they wonder if the German problem is temporary or chronic. They say they can deliver coal to Germany at a lower price than many European mines can produce it. And in time Europe will have to face up to it.

Piles of unsold German coal and increased mine unemployment led West Germany to clamp on a 20-mark ($4.76) a ton levy on imports, after the first 4½ million tons a year, which are duty free.

Dr. Erhard's ministry says U.S.

coal averages 70 to 80 marks ($16.66 to $19) per ton delivered there. At 80 marks a ton the duty comes to 25 per cent, making the price $23.80.

The National Coal Exporters Assn. of the United States has different figures. It says that at the present Atlantic freight rates, American low-volatile coal for steel mill use can be delivered in Germany at $15 to $16 a ton, so that the flat $4.76 duty is about 30 per cent, and the top price $20.80.

In either case, both sides agree it is prohibitive and intended to be.

And little American coal is entering Germany. American coal exports took a big spurt in 1957. Europe was racing to raise industrial output, and was hampered by the oil crisis following the Suez blockade. Then ocean freight rates slumped sharply. And German importers signed long term contracts for American coal.

The National Coal Policy Conference puts total exports that year at 59 million tons, of which 50 million went to west Europe with Germany getting 15½ million of them. Last year the total topped to 38 million tons, with Europe taking 80 per cent of it.

The conference estimates that 30 million tons this year will slide to 20 million tons, with Europe's Coal men blame tariffs and import quotas, and an increase in rope's industrial drive (especially in steel making) was also a prime factor.

MR. AND MRS. L. A. McALLASTER

On Tuesday evening, June 2, at 7:00 o'clock, First Church of the Nazarenes presented a lovely setting for the religious service blessing the January marriage of Carol, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sorensen, Cobham Park road, to Lawrence Allan McAllaster, son of Dr. and Mrs. Allan R. McAllaster, Hyde Park, Mass.

Officiating for the impressive ceremony was the bridegroom's father, assisted by the Rev. John Z. Andree. Mrs. Norman Huck was at the organ for traditional wedding music, and accompanied Miss Judy Andree, who sang "O Promise Me", "Saviour, Like a Shepherd Lead Us" and "The Lord's Prayer". Ushers were Ronald, Roger and Kenneth Sorensen, brothers of the bride.

A reception was held following the ceremony, with approximately 100 relatives and friends of the young couple in attendance.

The three-tiered wedding cake was served by Mrs. Kenneth Sorensen, Mrs. Robert King presided at coffee service and Mrs. Ronald Sorensen was at the punch bowl. The guest book was managed by Mrs. Jeanne King, and aides were the Misses Susan King, Karyn McAllister and Marilyn Rueder.

Feel Old, Young? Depends On Who Asks You When

"How old do you think you are?" asks a magazine article. Well, Sir, if you're talking to us women the answer will vary from day to day.

We feel 10 years younger when someone we haven't seen in years says with artful flattery, "I can't get over it. You haven't changed a bit."

We feel 10 years older when we try on a dress and after one glance in the mirror feel compelled to say: "This is pretty but it's a little too girlish looking, don't you think?"

We feel 10 years younger when we've just had a new and becoming hairdo, bought a dress that "does something for us," or finally managed to shed a few excess pounds.

We feel 10 years older when a son or daughter innocently refers to someone we know is younger than we are as "pretty old."

We feel 10 years younger when we're dressed for a party and in the mood for a gay evening.

We feel older, much older, when we come across some old snapshots of ourselves and realize what changes the years have made.

We feel younger than we are when we are in a gay, happy mood no matter what has given us a lift.

We feel older than we are when we get discouraged or overworked or weighed down with too many conflicting responsibilities.

So what does the gentleman mean, how old do we feel?

Is he talking about today, tomorrow, next week or a year from now when we might just happen to feel much younger than we do today?

The Mature Parent

Mother Can't Be Father As Well to Her Children

BY MRS. MURIEL LAWRENCE

They sat at a table in the big expensive roadhouse on the outskirts of one of our most expensive exurbs. The father might have been a rising young TV or advertising executive. The mother, in her tricky simple red linen sheath, was slim as a high fashion model and wore the same look of bored disdain.

But when she turned that look on the exuberant little boy beside her who wanted more black olives, it had no effect at all. When she removed the relish dish, saying, "No, you've had enough," he reached over to his sister's plate and grabbed her olives.

In her cool, overcontrolled voice, his mother said, "Stuart, you heard what I said. Give the olives back to Melinda."

He shoved them into his mouth.

I thought, "Oh, young mother, why don't you open that carefully lipsticked mouth of yours and cry to your husband: 'Bill, help me! Sit on Stuart! Subdue him! I'm so fashionably thin that my sitting on him makes no impression. Indeed, Bill, I only seem to be sophisticated, self-sufficient, certain of all the answers—and am really unable to father our children for you. Squash Stuart, dear Bill, and I'll never quote Doctors Spock or Gesell to you again, so help me!'"

She didn't say this, of course. So what happened was family surrender. The bright young executive father, at a nod of decision from his wife, untied the napkin from Stuart's neck. Slipping a bill to the bewildered waiter, he meekly followed wife and children to their parked car and home where Stuart, I can only presume, was served more olives.

I don't know how we women got stuck with this awful obligation to appear so independent, so self-assured, so superior to any need for husbandly strength and co-operation in the discipline of children.

How we got stuck with it doesn't matter if we could just register our resentment of it. We were unable to. We just brood, smoke and drink too much, get headaches and divorces, imagining we're mad at everything but the one thing that really grates us—the obligation to play father to our husbands' children.

So, fooled by our front of self-sufficiency, our men have got to feeling uncertain, insufficient. Joining us in parental surrender, they leap to our nod of decision—and follow us obediently out of the restaurant instead of staying there, helping to quell Stuart and enjoying a fine roast beef dinner.

MR. HOLLABAUGH IS HONORED AT PICNIC

A picnic held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roger Lindell at Chandlers Valley, with 70 in attendance, honored the 63rd birthday anniversary of John Henry Hollabaugh. The honored one was happily surprised by the presence of his six sisters:

Mrs. Dora Lubold, Salamanca, N. Y.; Mrs. Lovina Dickey, Warren; Mrs. Irene Miller and Mrs. Alice Kittlinger, Russell; Mrs. Isabel Rapp, Lander; Mrs. Esther Akeley, of Akeley. Robert Swanson entertained the group with guitar playing and singing.

It was decided to make this an annual affair, to be known as the Hollabaugh reunion, with all descendants of Isaac and Nettie McCain Hollabaugh invited. Next year, the reunion will be held the second Sunday in June at the home of Mrs. Dora Lubold in Salamanca.

Pfc. Robert C. Hollabaugh, stationed in Munich, Germany, added a highlight to the day by calling his wife, Virginia, to wish her a happy June 14 birthday, and adding birthday wishes for his father.

Napoleon in 1811, pinned the Cross of Honor on Benjamin Delessert for obtaining crystallized beet sugar.

Set Pretty Outdoor Table on Budget

BY KAY SHERWOOD
NEA Staff Writer

If you have an outdoor dining area, don't limit its use to the nights you entertain. Families, especially the children, enjoy the novelty of eating outdoors, and the cool evening breezes will make food taste better.

Informal service is certainly the order of the day, but that needn't mean a succession of paper plates and cups. Some thrifty homemakers will save their odds and ends of old china to use in such a way.

This form of thriftiness will not appeal to all, especially to those who delight in a pretty, co-ordinated setting, whether for company or for the family.

In these days, when really good-looking dinnerware can be bought for so little, and when there are so many double-purpose containers which go from kitchen to table, it's not an extravagance to have dishes enough for any occasion.

Looking very much at home on either outdoor or indoor informal tables are the new serving pieces and canisters which team warm woods, such as walnut, with earthenware or china.

One new and very moderately priced group features tapered china canisters with walnut lids. Those could line up on a kitchen counter or a table to hold condiments and sugar and, in the larger sizes some staple items.

A wood tray is likely to be teamed with cheese or snack servers. Walnut and brass are used to make warming stands for coffee jugs or casseroles.

Oiled teakwood holders with glass liners could be used for a variety of foods.

Natural teammates for such

For informal dining, blue cloth is set with new, inexpensive, dinnerware in mustard sunburst rim pattern. Canisters and serving dish have walnut lids; casserole, a walnut stand. Pitcher and matching mugs carry well on a wicker tray.

serving pieces are china and earthenware in modern shapes and those with provincial or Scandinavian motifs.

A good example is found in a low-priced dinnerware with a brilliant mustard sunburst that rims plates and the bases of wood-topped jars and cruets.

What joins in smoothly with such tableware are wicker baskets for bread or rolls, wooden candle holders, boldly colored tablecloths and sturdy garden flowers.

A welcome change, too, for the youngster charged with setting the table is to show her this variation:

Let her tie each person's flatware in a big, lap-size napkin. Wrap protects silver and simplifies buffet service.

Clements Are Given Farewell by Grange

At the regular meeting of Diamond Grange in Tiona Tuesday evening, a report was given by Mrs. Lou Clements, chairman of the rummage sale, which was very gratifying.

Mrs. Clements expressed her appreciation to each one who had contributed to its success. Mrs. Flossie Schweitzer, plant sale chairman, also made a supplementary report and the efforts of Mrs. Schweitzer and her committee are to be commended.

Since this was the last meeting for the master and secretary, Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Clements, respectively, Mrs. Alice Bean, overseer, was chosen to serve the unexpired term of the master and Mrs. Rachael Ion was elected as secretary. For the next meeting, the new master appointed Howard Watson to serve as overseer.

The meeting was turned over to Flossie Schweitzer, lecturer, who announced that since the worthy master first attended a Grange function of the sort, a Hobo Party would be held that night.

Several selections were played by the Kitchen Band, of which Lou Clements was a member, followed by the crowning of King and Queen of the Hoboes, Mr. and Mrs. Clements. Notes were written by the members present and given to the Clements, to be read upon their arrival in Florida.

Master Clements urged members to proceed with early completion of the new hall, so all functions could be held there, and promised to attend a meeting next summer, if the hall is completed.

Mrs. Ida Blanchard has again offered the use of her lawn for the Grange to hold its annual ice cream social and one is being planned for the near future.

Diamond, Pleasant and Scandia Granges are holding a Visitation Meeting at Pleasant Grange Hall Thursday at 8:00 p.m. and all members are urged to attend.

Planning For Assembly

At the left in the picture above, Robert Peterson, assistant presiding minister of the Warren congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, confers with E. W. Torso, circuit director, concerning the semi-annual assembly to be held June 19-21 at the Evans Rollerdom in Bradford.

Mr. Peterson recently attended an organizational meeting in Meadville with other presiding and assistant ministers of northwestern Pennsylvania to work out the plans. Principal Bible talk of the assembly will be heard at 3:00 p. m. Sunday, when Angelo A. Catanzaro will speak on "A Paradise Earth Through God's Kingdom." Mr. Catanzaro, well known Bible teacher and lecturer, comes from world headquarters of the group in Brooklyn, N. Y.

Robert Gibson, director of the ministry school for the local congregation, has been named one of the assembly speakers, plan-giving a 15-minute discourse during the opening session Friday evening. Approximately 1,000 ministers from 20 congregations will be attending the three-day gathering.

Other features will include a baptism ceremony for newly-baptized ministers on Saturday afternoon. According to Mr. Gibson, this is a regular feature of each circuit assembly. "Water immersion, as in the case of Jesus, is a symbol of personal dedication to the service of God," he explains.

It is expected about 30 Jehovah's Witnesses from the Warren congregation will be in attendance.

Bell Telephone Company of Pennsylvania employees received more than $9,000 in cash awards during 1958 under the company's employee suggestion plan.

William Cornwall In Junior Voice Recital

The Conservatory of Music was completely filled last evening when William Cornwall, Jr., presented his junior voice recital. Walter L. Whaley, prominent Warren pianist, provided a splendid musical background for the young singer.

It was just four years ago young Cornwall was stricken with polio of the throat following his appearance with the Warren Boy Choir in Ocean City. At that time a specialist said Cornwall would probably never sing again, although his great determination to do so made last night's recital possible.

Mr. Cornwall has regained his beautiful voice and sang through his entire program with fine control. He was at his best in Handel's "Alma Mia," demonstrating a rich and vibrant quality with clear ringing operatic tones. Outstanding, also, was his group of German lieder, sung with beautiful German diction.

Young Cornwall was equally at home in his lighter selections, singing with ease and drawing upon a rich and flexible voice. "Sayonara" and "Strange Music" were great favorites with the audience.

Following the recital, Mr. and Mrs. Cornwall, Sr., entertained all guests in the Conservatory social rooms for an informal reception.

BAPTIST MOTHERS' CLUB HAS OUTING

Members of Baptist Mothers' Club enjoyed their annual family picnic in Crescent Park, with more than 60 in attendance. A delicious meal included ice cream and cake provided by the hostesses, Mary Kay Scott, Lois Scott and Peggy Paul. Afterwards, the children enjoyed playing in the playground.

This is the last meeting of the club under this name. As of the start of the new year in September, the group will no longer be under the sponsorship of the Baptist church and will be known as the TBH Mothers' Club.

Prizes were awarded Mrs. Mildred Newark and Mrs. Marian Newark, and the bride-elect received many lovely and useful gifts from the 15 guests in attendance from Buffalo, Frewsburg, Falconer, Gerry and Warren.

Mrs. Henry Larson, Spiritual Life secretary, had devotions on the topic "A New Ambassador for Christ — The Tourist," continuing with a hymn and responsive reading of the Spiritual Litany.

It was voted to combine the WSCS and the Sunday School picnic into a church picnic, to be held at Allen Park, Jamestown, Saturday, August 1, with dinner at 1:00 o'clock.

Everyone is invited to a Family Fellowship supper at the church Thursday, June 25, with a seven-course dinner at 6:30, followed by pictures shown by Rev. Clifford C. Headland.

Mrs. Vinton Finzer and Mrs. Leland Haller are hostesses for the July meeting at 8:00 p.m. Thursday, the ninth, place to be announced.

The meeting closed with prayer by Mrs. Algot Lundgren. Dues and offerings were received. Refreshments were served by the hostesses, and a social hour enjoyed.

The parade is at 6:00 p. m. and members should be at the local Legion Home at 3:30. At the regular Post meeting at 8:00 p. m. next Monday, officers for the coming year will be elected and all are urged to be on hand.

Mrs. Sidney Blackman held low gross for the field, with an 86. First and second point winners by divisions were: Mrs. Blackman and Mrs. Keller, One; Mrs. Robert Walsh and Mrs. Jeral Angove, Two; Mrs. Calderwood and Mrs. Fred Martin, Three; Mrs. Harry Wildblood and Mrs. T. A. Atwell, Four.

Next week's match will be "Hazards and Putts." First tournament of the season for the Northwestern Pennsylvania Women's Golf Association was washed out, but players are hopeful for better weather conditions tomorrow, when they go to Kahwa Club in Erie.

Golfers are reminded among year-end prizes for which they may compete every playing day during the season is the award for the most winners of "goat" matches. Players purchase membership cards to The Goat Club and the winner of each handicapped match is given a goat card by her losing opponent. The number of cards each player receives during the year is classified "secret" until the final dinner of the season, when the prize is awarded.

OBSCURE ORIGIN

Origin of the word "jalopy" is obscure, but it may come from the Mexican town of Jalapa, known for its broken-down cars. It may, also, be derived from the Spanish "galapago," meaning "a tortoise," hence "a slow-moving vehicle."

Boyle's Column

By HAL BOYLE

MONTE CARLO (AP)—Help! Get me out of here or, better, lend me more francs. With a few hundred more francs I am sure I can whip the wheel—the roulette wheel that is.

From the time of my birth in Kansas City, Mo., I knew I was born to break the bank at Monte Carlo—or at least make the try. Well, nobody can say I didn't make my play.

First I went to the dice table, and tried to throw the dice that are hereditary in my family and once won one of my ancestors in Missouri the right to build a canal between Sedalia and London—God speed being granted beyond state lines.

They wouldn't take my dice, and I got riled up and refused to use their dice.

By then my wife had got control of the family exchequer.

I explained I would break the bank at Monte Carlo at roulette. She said I was welcome to do so and God speed, but all she could lend me was 1,000 francs.

For a moment I thought she was bleeding generosity until I found out that 485 francs equals a dollar and 1,000 francs is only the sunny side of two bucks.

I found a roulette table where the going bet was 200 francs. Came to about 40 cents.

The table was surrounded by people who looked like they were either family advisers to the last Czar of Russia, or at least displaced cousins of Tovarich Trotsky. Each had a system.

They noted down the results of every turn of the wheel. They bet only about once out of every 50 times.

I passed up the 200,000-franc limit table myself and sportingly put down 200 francs on No. 29, a lucky number in my vocabulary because it has always seemed to me the last number before 30. And you know what 30 is. Finis. Exit. So long.

I played it five straight times. It never came up.

Yet when I walked away from the table you could almost feel the respect of those sick foreign aristocrats. They had seen the last of the boy plungers of the Western world spend his entire wad—about $2.10—and stroll away tight-faced but smiling, bowing to a duke here, a duchess there.

Matter of FACT

One of the earliest industries to be started in colonial America was lumbering. According to old Norse accounts, Leif Ericson brought back a cargo of timber from North America about 1000 A.D. Timbers from the Virginia forests were among the first products shipped to England from the Jamestown colony, established in 1607. A saw operated by water power was set up in Maine in 1631.

Atmosphere In Iraq

Editor's Note — William L. Ryan has revisited Iraq, a country he last saw just before the 1958 revolution which killed the king. In this dispatch, written free of censorship, he describes the current atmosphere.

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst
BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — For the past few weeks nobody in Baghdad, as far as can be learned has spat on an American.

Perhaps the atmosphere of carnival is wearing off in Iraq. The confused young men charging about the streets of Iraqi cities, intoxicated by nose-thumbing slogans, went on a monumental binge after the revolution last July.

Now the ardor is fading a bit. Even the uniformed youngsters of the "popular resistance forces" seem bored. They still stop cars and search some, but the old zeal is gone.

Iraqi soldiers still live in tents on the U.S. Embassy grounds. A soldier with fixed bayonet looks at the credentials of those who go in. Iraqi intelligence men haunt the place. But it's not so annoying as it once was.

Red banners with violent slogans hang on buildings or flutter over the streets, more in evidence than the traditional green of Islam.

Women with black veils covering their heads and faces, black abbas billowing about them, squat unceremoniously in the dust-covered streets to gossip and attend to the needs of squalling children.

Kurdish porters with incredible loads on their backs stagger doggedly through the streets, oblivious to propaganda. Stolid farmers labor slow-moving, heavily burdened donkeys weaving their way along the crowded sidewalks.

Their landlords, once entitled to the deferential respect due feudal lords, mutter glumly to one another in the coffee houses about the confiscation of lands under the revolutionary regime.

Workers at key city squares in Baghdad, sweltering in the cruel sunshine, labor against time to erect expensive triumphal arches for the revolution anniversary July 14. The job keeps a corps of workers busy.

Bookstores display the latest pamphlets published in Communist countries. The shopkeepers have little choice about this. The newspapers with dreary unanimity follow the lead of the Communist press in spreading the clichés of Communist propaganda. All refer to Iraq's future as one of "popular democracy. All pay tribute to the Soviet Union.

Everywhere, on pillars, in shop windows, on buildings, there are pictures. There are pictures of renowned revolutionary poets, pictures of Communist heroes like Lenin, Stalin and Khrushchev. But the picture which dominates all the others in the hot, dusty, dirty and overcrowded streets is that of the premier, Maj. Gen. Abdel Karim Kassem.

At one stage the Communists were ready to grab, at the least, a large share of governmental authority. Suddenly they pulled back.

It was a bitter pill to swallow for those who believed the party ready to move. Relatively small in number, the disciplined hard core commanded the only well-organized political party. It had control of virtually all mass organizations. Street mobs were its playthings.

Soviet and Communist bloc penetration had been swift and heavy. Many hundreds of foreign Communists poured in: technical teams, cultural teams, propa-ga training teams, engineering, economic and military missions, experts in swarms.

Kassem apparently still had army support, but the eager ones among the Communists seemed confident they could handle the problem.

Then the Communists backtracked, called off an "education campaign" for participation in the government, proclaimed their loyalty to Kassem.

What caused this reversal? First, Kassem's resistance to the Communists seemed to have stiffened.

Then, despite a great deal of noise hitting at President Gamal Abdel Nasser of the United Arab Republic, it was plain Nasser still had considerable personal following in Iraq. And Nasser had turned violently on communism.

For Moscow it became a choice: take power in a country which still could blow up or retain what ever gains Soviet policy had made in the Middle East toward long-range goals. Moscow risked provoking a solid Middle East anti-Communist front under Nasser leadership, Iraq, lacking a frontier with a Communist power, might not long be held firmly in the Red grip.

The Communists' Iraqi party secretary general, Salim Adil, attended international Communist meetings in Moscow. He came home and proclaimed: no party alone could "shoulder the responsibility of liberating the country." There would be no showdown with Kassem at this time, no attempt to grab power.

Moscow, alert to the complexities of the Arab East, seems in no hurry to take rash chances. Attractive as oil-rich Iraq might seem in the role of Communist satellite, the risk is great. Nasser defeated the Communists once before in Syria, when they were almost strong enough to grab for power. They have reason to respect him, even now.

Federal Restrictions Cited As Vital to Crude Industry

NEW ORLEANS (AP)—A government official said Tuesday federal restrictions are needed to stimulate domestic oil production and exploration.

Both production and exploration are sagging, Capt. M. V. Carson Jr., told the Interstate Oil Compact Commission's mid-year meeting.

Carson, chief of the Interior Department's office of oil and gas and administrator of oil imports, said the restrictions are needed on foreign oil imports.

The controversial mandatory cut in foreign oil imports ordered by President Eisenhower is vital to national defense, Carson asserted.

"Experience has shown us that the United States must find at least 1½ barrels of new reserves for each barrel of crude oil taken out of the ground.

"This task will not be undertaken by domestic producers unless there is firm assurance that imports of foreign oil will not supplant domestic supplies. The present program gives them that assurance."

Before the controls program went into effect March 10, Carson said, well completions in 1959 were lagging behind year-earlier levels.

Well completions now have moved modestly ahead of levels last year, he stated.

Both small and large oil importers "can proceed on the basis that unwarranted restrictions will not be placed upon imports necessary to supplement domestic production," he said.

At the Midland, Tex., tournament last month, every South player chose to open with a third hand spade bid. Most West players bid various numbers of diamonds and eventually landed at five diamonds down one. Those that doubled got a poor score; those that were not doubled did all right.

Two West players chose to jump to three no trump. One was allowed to play it for a top score. At the other table North bid four spades, East doubled and everyone passed.

South ruffed the second diamond and led a spade. West won and led a club. East played the jack and South saw that he had a chance to make his contract by a squeeze.

Obviously, the three no trump bid was based on long diamonds, the ace of spades and king of hearts. Maybe the king of hearts was only guarded once.

South let the jack of clubs hold and won the next club lead. Now he ran off all his trumps and discarded the nine of clubs from dummy on the last round.

East had to go down to three hearts in order to keep his high club. Now South finessed the jack of hearts. The king dropped on the second heart lead and the queen and seven of hearts made the last two tricks.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

NEW YORK (AP)—It's tougher to follow in the footsteps of a successful father than to go your way alone says young Joel McCrea. Joel McCrea, known as Jody—is the handsome 6-foot-3 son of veteran actor Joel McCrea and actress Frances Dee. After two years of Army service, Jody is going to Hollywood to start work on a western series, "Wichita Town," which will open on the NBC network this fall. He'll co-star with his father.

"This wasn't the way I planned it at all," the earnest young man explains. "I did not expect to go into television or pictures for a while. I wanted to do a play in New York and some other theater work and then, when I felt secure enough about my own ability, I would be ready to take on television and motion pictures — on my own. I didn't want to ride in on my father's reputation."

"It may be easier for a second-generation actor to get his first break," says Jody. "but almost everything else is harder. People expect more of you. People have less sympathy for you. And you have to have enough sense yourself to avoid things that you're not ready for."

Jody did not even think about acting as a career until he was a student at New Mexico Military Institute. He and his younger brother were brought up on the McCrea's working cattle ranch 50 miles north of Los Angeles.

"We never talked about acting at home—we thought of ourselves as ranchers," he says.

But from high school on Jody became more interested in acting, and before going into the Army was graduated from UCLA as a theater arts major. Along the line he has picked up considerable acting experience on his own, including two professional plays in Phoenix, a stint as a radio announcer on an Army recruiting show and the lead in a "Studio One" TV show.

Summer Days Call for New Cosmetic Shades

For wear with pastel summer linens and cottons, there are brand new nail polish shades in pink. These range from pale to vivid, with every shade of rose in the range.

BY ALICIA HART, NEA Beauty Editor

The glow of warm summer colors is the cue for a whole change in make-up. For it isn't just the colors you wear, the pinks and blues, sand and gold and tawny shades. It's the very reflection of the day about you, the clear blue sky, the hot sun and green grass.

On a summer day, the clear light does something to and for your skin quite different from the effect achieved at, say, 4 p.m. on a dark winter day. If your skin is a golden tan, you need a completely different shade of powder, rouge and lipstick. But equally, you need different and new make-up colors if you've left your skin a pretty porcelain.

Another switch should come in nail polish shades. Put away the winery, deep reds of winter and the deeper pinks of spring. Try a clear, light, vivid pink that's in complete harmony with summer colors. Paris pink is one of these, light and lovely. It comes in both pearlized and regular nail polish.

Commissioner Seeks Views
Game Commission has invited representatives of Pennsylvania agencies and organizations interested in hunting, trapping and the Commonwealth's wildlife management to meet in Harrisburg on June 20. Representatives will assemble at 10 a. m. in Hearing Room No. 1 of Public Commission, located in the North Office Building at the Capitol.

On this occasion the procedure of previous years will be followed. Game Commission members and officials will listen to the views expressed orally by each representative as explanatory to upcoming season and bag limit recommendations already presented in written form to the wildlife agency. These statements, together with reports of springtime game populations and production submitted by Game Protectors across the Commonwealth, will be carefully considered by the Game Commission

Repellent Routes Stinkers
Odor of moth crystals, sprinkled around garden borders, has been known to cause rabbits to detour. The white flakes have even greater power, says Game Protector E. W. Cox, Somerset County, who reports: "Early in May skunks were chased from under a tavern and dance hall building by spraying moth crystals through the blower of an electric sweeper."

Commission's Exhibits
Attractiveness, live animal interest and information value of Game Commission's major wildlife exhibits shown annually at Harrisburg, Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are well known. Tens of thousands of persons also enjoy and profit from visits to the wildlife organization's museum at Fymatuning, Crawford County. There, they find mounted specimens of ducks, geese, other waterfowl and shore birds, in spring and fall plumage, in true-to-life poses. Groups of bird students and biology classes from Ohio and Pennsylvania visit the authentic displays to learn about the migrant birds.

At Hershey Park too, large and small game species and numerous other birds and animals are presented in natural surroundings. This Commission exhibit is housed in the stone building near the entrance to the zoo and may be viewed all days of the week except Monday.

Admittance to both of these exhibits is free. During the late weeks of the school term many teachers accompany their pupils to the educational displays. Throughout the summer visitors from many states, even distant lands, learn in these places about wildlife resident to Pennsylvania and the migrants that visit the Commonwealth.

Drop In Rabies Cases
Late in May the Pennsylvania Department of Agriculture issued a welcome report. Officials of the agency said that in the Commonwealth "positive diagnosis of rabies in animals the first four months of 1953 have dropped 59 percent from the same period last year."

The Bureau of Animal Industry tabulation lists Bradford, Greene, Lebanon and Wayne as counties where rabid animals have been found. These included two cows, a dog, a cat and seven foxes.

Last year there were 7 cases diagnosed in the same four-month period. This total included 14 foxes and five skunks.
It Happens Every Spring
"A cock ringneck in western Clearfield County went into a rage every time an automobile would enter his little domain this spring," says Game Protector Claude Kelsey. "The bossy ringneck would attack the cars. Afterward the bird would crow in triumph. But finally there was an encounter following which there was no crowing. David the cock bird lost to Goliath the vehicle."

Summer Picnic Held by Forest Extension Office

(Publicity Release from the office of the Forest County Agent)

At its summer picnic on the farm pond of J. R. Allio on Thursday, the Executive Committee of Forest County Agricultural Extension Association accepted with regrets the resignation of Mrs. Kathleen Zumbro, extension home economist. The summer assistant extension workers were introduced to the committee. Miss Janet Morris, Kane, is helping with the home economics extension program. Charles S. Ault is assisting with the youth and adult program in agriculture.

Mrs. Zumbro's letter of resignation was read by the secretary, Mrs. Ira Shoup. The treasurer's report was given by John King.

Activities of the Senior Citizens Club were reported by Mrs. John Motzer. A panel consisting of Mrs. Kathy Zumbro, moderator; Mrs. J. R. Allio, Mrs. John Handy and Chester Zuendal reviewed points brought out in the recent series of three meetings on making organization meetings more effective.

A dialog by Kathy Zumbro and Janet Morris was used to report home economics activities and plans.

Charles Ault, assistant county agent, outlined his plan of work with the agricultural 4-H Clubs for the summer.

County Agent Russell M. Smith gave highlights of the season's adult and 4-H extension activities.

The date of the 40th annual meeting of the County Agricultural Extension Association was set for October 23. Named to the committee to plan this annual meeting were John King, chairman, Mrs. J. R. Allio, Mrs. John Handy, Mrs. H. C. Seigworth, Mrs. Ira Shoup and Everett Wagner.

September 16 is the date set for the next meeting of the Extension Association Executive Committee. Plans for this meeting are to be made by Mrs. J. R. Allio, Mrs. John King and Mrs. John Motzer.

Weekly Food Review

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Bargains in fresh fruits and vegetables give the housewife a chance to buy the more expensive meat cuts in her favorite grocery store this week.

Possibly with that thought in mind, some chains are pushing beef steak, rib roast and top or bottom round roast. A few have chuck or stewing beef.

The situation in pork is reversed, however, with more frequent offerings of bargain specials such as the smaller picnic hams and smoked butts. Pork prices normally go up in the summer as marketings decline, but the increase is expected to be less than usual this year.

Frying chickens and leg of lamb also are offered in several areas. Prices on the former are irregularly higher and the latter weaker. Egg prices also are irregular.

Burgeoning local orchards and fields are behind the fruit and vegetable bargains, along with good growing weather in such key areas as California.

Other outstanding buys in vegetables are new cabbage, yellow onions from California, Texas and Arizona, snap beans, spinach, radishes, green onions, yellow or green squash and cucumbers.

Potato prices edge higher, however. Low prices some months ago discouraged planting of large crops, so the supply suffers.

Peaches again head the list of outstanding bargains among fruits, and they seem likely to remain on top (or at the bottom price-wise) for some time.

You can also do very well buying cantaloupes, mangoes, limes, pineapples, bananas and blueberries.

Introducing Summer Y-Camp Personalities

Paul Randolph of 311 Laurel street, pictured in a McGarry Photo, has accepted the post of assistant director and quartermaster for the YMCA Camp at Cornplanter, beginning July 19.

Mr. Randolph, a Meadville native, graduated Allegheny College in 1950 with a B.A. in Economics, and, moving with his wife to Warren in 1958, took up his duties in the accounting department at Warren State Hospital. Prior to this, Mr. Randolph saw action in the Korean campaign and was associated with his father in automotive repair in Meadville. Now he finds time to work several evenings and Saturday at the desk in Warren's YMCA, where he has become acquainted with the "Y" members. This will be his initial camping adventure.

Mr. Randolph's duties and responsibilities are varied, beginning with placement of the boys in their respective cabins; personnel chief who is responsible for the Junior and Senior counselors. Paul will appoint the Officer of the Day, Tewoka, and will handle the time schedule for campers, seeing that boys are up in the morning, and in bed on time at night, as well as prompt for meals.

He will be responsible for announcements on the PA system, in charge of mail, bugle, and the Trading Post, the store.

All the fashion world hails the wide, wide sailor collar that "capes" your shoulders above a streak of a sheath. Divine shape for junior figures—front banding suggests Empire line. Tomorrow's pattern: Misses' casual.

Printed Pattern 4700: Jr. Miss Sizes 9, 11, 13, 15, 17. Size 13 takes 3 3/4 yards 35-inch.

where boys may make purchases of sweets twice daily, amounting to 20c, by way of Canteen Card. Mr. Randolph is certain that every boy attending "Y" camp this year will have a vacation with a purpose, for camping offers a wealth of wonderful experiences to be lived over, talked over, and dreamed about for the rest of one's life.

With the well-rounded "back to the woods" program offered this year, camping at Cornplanter should prove a stimulating summer hiatus, marking a richer, fuller life for our youth. Warren YMCA is pleased to offer this adventure in camping and urges interested boys to enroll now, rather than be disappointed later.

Hollywood News

By BOB THOMAS AP Movie-TV Writer

APACHE TRAIL, Ariz. (AP)—While a host of film makers sweated in the Arizona sun, one member of the movie company remained fresh as a lotus flower.

Her name is Lisa Lu, and she has the feminine lead opposite James Stewart in "The Mountain Road." Her lovely face remained unflushed under her broad coolie hat. She viewed the trek of extras up a desert canyon with oriental placidity.

"Don't let that coolness fool you," warned director Danny Mann. "She's a Chinese Magnani," he said, comparing her to Italy's fiery Anna Magnani.

Only that praise brought a blush to Lisa's cheeks.

"The hardest thing for me to do when I started learning to act was to let myself go," she said. "It is entirely against our nature. All Chinese children—and Japanese, too—are taught from early childhood to restrain their emotions. It was very difficult for me to learn to shout and be angry."

But she learned, and now she is the latest addition to Hollywood's growing list of oriental leading women.

She came out of China in 1947 and settled in Honolulu, where she became a newspaper librarian and covered Chinese society. But the yen to act was strong.

It remained after she came to the mainland to each mandarin at the Army Language School at Monterey, where her husband, Shelling Hwang, was also an instructor. She had met director Mann in Hawaii and asked his advice about her ambitions. His reply: study.

So she enrolled at Pasadena Playhouse and started learning how to doff her native reticence.

"Being Chinese is both an advantage and a disadvantage for an actress," she said realistically. "There is less competition for roles, but there are fewer roles."

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR SENTIMENTALITY—Sparkler Still Rates Number One With Altar-Bound

BY ALIEN SNOODY
NEA Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Practicality is no substitute for sentimentality when the prospect of a trip to the altar is involved. Even hard-headed businessmen admit that sentiment adds its own glow when a couple chooses "the engagement ring."

From indications in various parts of the country, when love is in bloom, a ring is the thing. The size of the gem varies from individual to individual, region to region. Those with love in their eyes on Fifth Ave. may pay more than a moonstruck twosome on Main St.

However, Arthur Muller, a vice president in charge of diamond engagement rings for a major jewelry firm (Articard), offers a word of advice for those contemplating marriage.

Fingering his gold wedding band, he says in a fatherly way: "Don't defer the selection of an engagement ring until after the marriage. Once you are married the sentimental bloom is gone."

Engagement rings definitely are not passe in this country. However, rings and marriage licenses are sensitively tuned to the job market.

Last year the marriage rate slumped, much to the consternation of women who were poised at the altar. It added, also, a few gray hairs to the heads of leading jewelers since diamond

"Understandings" between jeweler and groom-to-be are still common where the girl chooses her own engagement ring.

sales make up 25 per cent of the 1 1/2-billion-dollar total retail jewelry sales each year.

But Muller happily points out that 1960 is going to be a bumper year with 1,600,000 marriages anticipated. There were 1,445,000 marriages in 1958. More marriages are on the horizon because of the heavy birth rate during the 40s.

If the trend to teen-age marriages runs true to form, more young persons will marry. Seven per cent of the present teen-age population already is married.

Nearly 2 1/2 million brides from 1957 to 1962 will be under 20 years old. And, those older folks who postponed alliances for financial reasons also will take the plunge in 1960.

If they do, chances are the shaky kneed bridegroom-to-be will "surprise" the maiden of his choice with a diamond—if he lives in a community of 50,000 or less. If he doesn't present the ring to his sweetheart "unexpectedly," he at least arranges with the jeweler to show only rings in a price range he can afford. This usually is from $125 to $250.

This reconnoitering is an interesting paradox, Muller feels. "Men and women today are supposed to have more confidences than years ago. It's unusual when something this personal isn't discussed thoroughly by a couple."

In metropolitan areas of more than 50,000, the majority of couples shop together for the ring. If you are an average man or woman still shopping for a lifetime mate you have these statistics before you:

- You probably will be engaged for six months.
- December is the happy gift (ring) month.
- June is still the month of brides.
- But there is always someone who will knock all statistics into a cocked hat.
- As one woman in her late 20s explained, "I have my ring now. I'm in no hurry to get married."

The enthusiastic approval of leaders in the scientific world, but the general public showed little interest.

Brides and Bridegrooms in U. S. Are Getting Younger

WASHINGTON (AP)—Eighteen was the favorite age for girls getting married last year. Brides and bridegrooms in the United States are getting younger all the time.

In fact, the average U.S. marriage age today is probably "the lowest of any industrialized society," says Robert C. Cook, president of the Population Reference Bureau.

This private, nonprofit research organization, after poring over statistics for 1958, reported Sunday "the average age of first-time marriages in the United States last year was 23 for men, 20 for women. More girls married at 18 than any other age."

Looking back to 1890, the first time marriage data was taken in a census, the bureau notes the average age of men marrying then was 26 and women 22. The first census was in 1790 but marriage information was not included until a hundred years later.

A generation ago, the married coed was a rarity, the married high school student unheard of. "Is the day coming?" Cook asked, "when married high school couples will be commonplace?" Well maybe, if the trend follows some of the statistics cited by the bureau.

Last year, about 45 per cent of women marrying for the first time and slightly more than 13 per cent of the men were under 20.

While the marriage age is declining across the country, there seems to be a nationwide trend to make the minimum legal age higher. Five years ago, four states permitted girls to marry at the age of 12 if they had the consent of parent or guardian. By 1958, the lowest legal minimum for girls to marry in any state was 14. Only two states — Idaho and Missouri — permitted boys of 15 to marry.

reduce blood clotting in patients for short periods.

Since Dr. Hahn's discovery, many investigators have confirmed this activity of heparin, named it "clearing factor," attributed it to an enzyme (a natural chemical substance that speeds up body processes), and tried to find out how it works.

Dr. Meng's current experiments in feeding dry beef pancreas to the diabetic rats and atherosclerotic rabbits indicate that something in this diet enhances heparin's ability to clear blood fats. He is now trying to find out which substance in the pancreas produces this result.

In earlier research Dr. Meng and his associates have confirmed that daily injection of heparin into rabbits prevented or retarded the development of atherosclerosis. Last year the Vanderbilt team studied the effects of heparin injection on fat introduced into the veins of 33 persons, and found that it increased the rate of removal of fat from the blood stream.

Marble Tournament at Huntingdon Saturday

Marble champions from nine VFW districts will compete June 20 for the championship of the 13th Annual Department of Pennsylvania, Veterans of Foreign Wars, Marble Tournament at Huntingdon. The tournament is co-sponsored by the Department and VFW Post 1754, Huntingdon. Tournament chairman is Paul Bumgardner, Huntingdon.

In announcing the contest, John C. Cavender, M. D., Commander, Department of Pennsylvania, Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States, said that last year's champion, 16-year-old Paul Stoner from VFW Post 556, York, will be ineligible to compete this year because of the contest's age limitation.

Plans are underway to have a parade of the district champions and their chaperones from Huntingdon to Blair's Field, where three rings, two under roof, will be constructed for the event.

The winner of the state tournament will journey to Eaton Rapids, Michigan, to compete in the National VFW Tournament the week of July 6.

News About Your Heart

Publicity Release from the Warren County Heart Association

This is a special research report based on American Heart Association supported studies.

Rats and rabbits are getting daily helpings of sweetbreads in the laboratory of Dr. H. C. Meng at Vanderbilt University. The rats have diabetes; the rabbits, atherosclerosis ("hardening of the arteries"). According to Dr. Meng, evidence suggests that the pancreas (sweetbread) is somehow linked to the body's mechanisms for clearing excess fats from the blood. He hopes the animals' special diet will help explain how the pancreas fits into the picture.

Dr. Meng's research (which has been aided by grants from the American Heart Association since 1956) seeks to throw light on an important aspect of atherosclerosis; the origin of the fatty patches or deposits that clog the arteries in this condition, setting the stage for heart attacks.

Many investigators believe the fat in these atherosclerotic deposits comes from the blood, but this has not been proved. What is known is that when people eat meals containing large amounts of fats, their blood a few hours later usually turns "milky" with tiny particles of fat. Normally the body clears out this "milky" fat from the blood, but how it does so is not understood. More information about the blood fat-clearing mechanisms might thus help answer the question of whether some flaw in the way the body handles fats is basically responsible for atherosclerosis.

A major clue to the body's fat-clearing mechanisms came in 1943 when Dr. Paul F. Hahn made the unexpected discovery that heparin, a natural anticoagulant, can clear fat out of the body very rapidly. Heparin, discovered in 1916, exists in minute quantities in normal blood tissues. Relatively large quantities of a commercial form, extracted from animal tissue, are used by doctors to

He didn't flatly say this had to be done before he'd go to a summit meeting.

Asked if this is what he meant, he said: "I don't see how the head of any self-respecting government can go to an international conference in response to any kind of thing that can be called a threat."

He meant the Soviet threat to the West: Get out of Berlin, or we let the East Germans take over.

At his news conference Eisenhower was reminded of that June 3 statement. He was asked if Soviet failure to withdraw its threat about Berlin meant he could not go to a summit meeting on other things.

Eisenhower's reply seemed to imply he was softening his position about agreement on Berlin being a precondition to a summit meeting. He said he had just tied in his June 3 statement about Berlin as an example of progress.

He added: "If there is any kind of reasonable progress that justifies a summit meeting, why of course I would never decline the opportunity to go."

But after the news conference Eisenhower's press secretary, James C. Hagerty, talked with reporters.

"Even though the President didn't specifically repeat that (June 3) statement, that is still just where he stands," Hagerty said. "He won't go to any summit conference under any threat regarding Berlin."

Bible Words for Today

II CORINTHIANS 4:5 "What we preach is not ourselves, but Jesus Christ as Lord." (RSV)

Augustine, one of the early church fathers, was in his early years a self-indulgent student at the University of Carthage. His life was full of complacency and compromise. Of this period he writes: "There sang all around me in my ears a cauldron of unholy loves." Augustine's standards of morality left much to be desired in this period of his life.

One day Jesus crossed his path and Augustine was never the same again. "You took me," cried Augustine, "from behind my own back where I had put myself all the time that I preferred not to see myself. And You set me there before my face that I might see how vile I was. ... I saw myself and was horrified."

That's what Jesus Christ has done for men in every generation, and he is doing it today for everyone who discovers him as the Lord of Life.

Youngsville Boro Council Attends To Many Matters

YOUNGVILLE — At a busy June meeting of Borough Council Monday evening, President E. Leo Johnson appointed Carl E. Rosendale to the Public Library Board, succeeding Carl Anderson, who has resigned.

Members discussed the plot of land located back of the Floral Gardens and extending back of other properties. A request for its purchase has been received and it was decided to have the plot surveyed to determine its exact boundaries in case of sale.

Burgess Crippen reported it will be several weeks before John Hoover, dog catcher, will be able to come to Youngsville. Further efforts will be made to have stray and unlicensed dogs picked up, thus solving a large part of the problem.

Councilman Thompson reported he had checked on approaches to the East End Store and found them acceptable. He also asked Superintendent Sanford about paving of Second street and Mr. Sanford said they would start work this week and push through to completion. He also reported driveway repairs on East Main street will be done. It was noted the Planning Commission is making excellent progress in making a colored map to indicate the commercial, residential, and industrial areas of the borough.

Mr. Sanford called attention to the fact that Robertis Cabinet Making Shop in Dyke's dairy building is showing great progress and is pleased to hear the hum of activity as he passes. It was noted the old Siggins property on West Main street, donated by Fred Beckenbach, will soon come under the legal ownership of the borough and the building will be completely demolished and the lot used for a parking lot. The matter of cutting weeds was again discussed. The ordinance provides that weeds on vacant lots should be cut at least once a month from May to October. People disregarding this will be notified to cut the weeds or action will be taken.

C. Nelson suggested a black-top apron be put on the Ford street entrances to the municipal parking lot to facilitate entrance from this side. He felt many coming from Island Park would proceed to Railroad street rather than try to get out of the Ford street entrance. The burgess and all councilmen were present except Mr. Borton. Carl Rosendale gave the invocation.

Veterans News

Q. The firm I work for is transferring me to another city and therefore I must sell my GI house. Will it be possible for me to get my GI loan entitlement back, so I may apply for another loan?

A. Yes. It is possible to have GI loan entitlement restored, in cases where the sale is for compelling reasons. VA, however, must be released of all liability on the present loan.

Q. I have a dental condition resulting from combat wounds, but for which I am not entitled to receive compensation. Is there any deadline in my case for applying for outpatient dental treatment?

A. No. Veterans whose non-compensable dental conditions resulted from combat wounds may apply at any time and receive as many treatments as are needed.

Q. I am studying for my doctorate degree under the Korean GI Bill. How many hours of classroom work does VA consider to be full-time?

A. For graduate studies, there is no set number of hours. VA accepts the word of your school whether you are on a full-time or part-time basis.

Q. I was recently examined by a doctor in connection with reinstating my GI insurance, but neglected to send the examination report to VA. Will the report be acceptable to VA if it is sent in late?

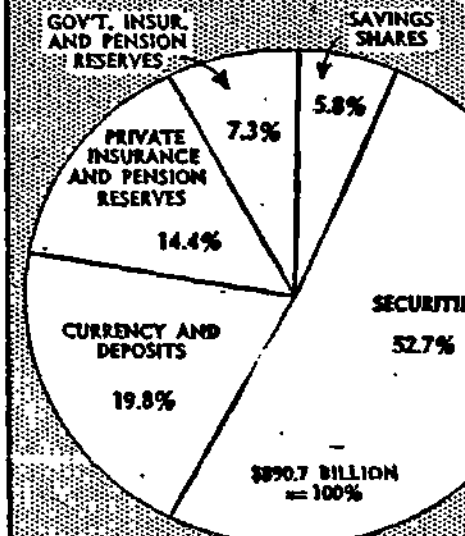

A. The report should have been sent immediately after the examination. If the delay has been more than five days, you must submit a statement that you are in as good health as when examined. If the delay has been more than 31 days, VA cannot accept your late report. You must take another examination.

Change Street Names As Kindness to Kids

FORT DEVENS, Mass. (AP) — The names of three streets on this old Army post have been changed as a kindness to youngsters.

Fredericksburg Street has become Pine Street, Chancellorsville now is Elm and Detroit Street has become Walnut.

An Army officer explained last night that the original names of the streets were too difficult for youngsters to spell.

The streets had been named for battles in which the 16th Infantry of the First Division, often stationed here, participated.

Immunization, Tests Advised for Campers

HARRISBURG — The Pennsylvania Department of Health asserts that knowing a child is physically fit for camp life will help parents enjoy the part of camping adults like best: the rest they get while youngsters are away from home.

Dr. Gerald R. Rice, director, Division of Maternal and Child Health, said parents have two responsibilities to the child going to camp: first, that the family physician says the child is as well as the parents think he is and, second, that the child is immunized against tetanus and polio.

Dr. Rice said the incidence of tetanus and polio increases in summer time. He advised primary and booster immunizations. He said some camps require protection against typhoid fever.

"Parents will rest mentally and emotionally as well as

Yellow Jaundice More Prevalent This Year

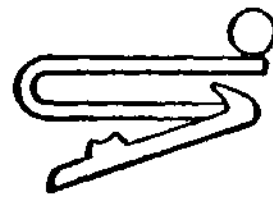

HARRISBURG — Infectious hepatitis, which is commonly called yellow jaundice, has been three times as prevalent in Pennsylvania this year as last year, the Pennsylvania Department of Health reported today.

Dr. Charles L. Wilbur, state health secretary, said 420 cases have been reported in the state thus far compared to 155 for the same period last year. The trend has been similar throughout the United States with 8,945 cases reported to date compared to 5,646 for the same period last year.

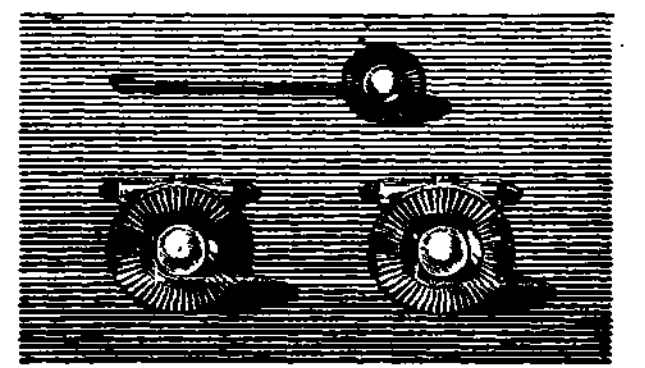

The disease may occur as single sporadic cases but where young people gather, as in schools and institutions, it commonly occurs in outbreaks or small epidemics. Upset stomach, headache and gastrointestinal occurrences are the earliest symptoms of hepatitis followed by the appearance of jaundice.

Counties with the greatest number of cases reported thus far are: Allegheny, 15; Bucks, 54; Chester, 21; Delaware, 33; Lancaster, 15; Mercer, 17; Montgomery, 44; Philadelphia, 170. Bucks County's rate of 19.39 persons is the highest in the state.

physically if they know their youngsters away at camp had protective immunizations before going to camp," Dr. Rice said.

Jinx Still Pursues Haddix When He Opposes the Cubs

CHICAGO (AP) — Pitcher Harvey Haddix of the Pittsburgh Pirates can't seem to beat the Chicago Cubs. The slim southpaw has lost five games this year — four of them to the Cubs.

Cal Neeman's inside — the park home run in the eighth inning broke a 2-2 tie and gave the Cubs a 5-2 victory Wednesday. Haddix yielded 11 hits and struck out eight in his losing effort.

The loss was painful to Pirate third-sacker Don Hoak who saw his 14-game hitting streak come to a halt. During the streak, Hoak had 24 for 54 and drove in 14 runs.

The Pirates played without second baseman Billy Mazaroski who injured a muscle in his left leg helping the Cubs to a 5-2 triumph over the Cubs on Tuesday.

It was the first time Mazaroski had been sidelined in 216 games. He had played in every 1958 game, starting with the third, upon his return from a stint in the armed service.

Rodriguez Hands Former Champion Akins a Beating

MIAMI BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Cubans in the Miami area today hailed what they called "the new Kid Gavilan" in the person of Luis Manuel Rodriguez, a lanky, fast-punching youngster from Camaguey.

Rodriguez soundly whipped former Welterweight Champion Virgil (Honeybear) Akins of St. Louis in a 10-round nationally-televised fight Wednesday night and made a solid impression in his first appearance in this country.

Kid Gavilan ruled the welterweight division from 1952 to 1954. Rodriguez, 22 years old, hopes to follow in his footsteps. The young Cuban is unbeaten in 22 fights and operates much on the order of the speedy Gavilan.

Using a flurry of left jabs and right hooks, Rodriguez won all but a couple of rounds in the opinion of Referee Cy Gottfried and two ringside judges.

Although there were no knockdowns, Akins was a tired and beaten man at the end, while Rodriguez was still throwing stinging punches that had closed the former champion's left eye.

Akins won the title June 6, 1958, and lost it to Don Jordan in Los Angeles Dec. 5.

Aking weighed 148 1/2 to Rodriguez' 147 and at 32 is 10 years older than the Cuban.

JUNIOR GOLF

PITTSBURGH (AP) — George Mackanos III of Pittsburgh is the 1959 Pennsylvania Junior golf champion.

Mackanos, the West Penn and WPAL champion, qualified for the final round against McMahon with a 4 and 3 triumph over John Driscoll of Greensburg. McMahon edged Neil Shorthouse of Edgewood 1-up in 21 holes in the semi-final round.

Bombers Dump Nameless Nine, 6-2

Long ball hitting of Bill Massa, coupled with six-hit pitching of Peroski, aided Solar Electric Bombers to a 6-2 decision over Nameless Nine, formerly Elks, in City Softball title on West Side grounds Wednesday.

Massa cored two runs for Bombers, one coming on a homer. Bill also doubled.

Solar jumped to an early 3 run lead in first inning and scored three more in third. Bottom of third Nameless combine chucked up their first run, added another in final minutes of play.

Kentucky Derby Winners To Meet On Coast Today

By BOB MYERS

Associated Press Sports Writer

INGLEWOOD, Calif. (AP) — Turmoil was the word for racing at Hollywood Park today — most of it over two stars of the meeting, Kentucky Derby winner Tony Lee and stakes winner Hillsdale.

Owner Fred Turner, Jr., of Texas took Tony Lee temporarily out of racing in his anger at Willie Shoemaker's agent, Harry Silbert.

And Trainer Maty Fallon declared flatly Hillsdale would not race in the $50,000 added Ingelwood Handicap Saturday because of the high weight of 132 pounds handed his four-year-old bay colt. And Hillsdale may skip out and race elsewhere.

Turner, the fiery oil and cattle baron from Midland, Tex., announced that Tony Lee would not race any more this summer and that he will get out of the game to the extent of selling 14 other horses in his stable at auction July 13.

Turner was still boiling over the fact that Shoemaker did not ride Tony Lee in the $50,000 added Cinema Handicap last Saturday but was booked instead by Silbert to ride Sword Dancer in the $100,000 added Belmont Stakes.

Former Pitt Half-Back Is Ordained Minister

PITTSBURGH (AP) — Remember Jimmy Joe Robinson, Pitt's feet-footed Negro half-back in 1947-48-49?

Well he's the Rev. Mr. Robinson now. He was ordained a minister in the Presbyterian Church Wednesday night.

The new minister has been made co-pastor of a church in Wichita, Kan. He and his family leave next Tuesday.

He was the first Negro to play varsity football at Pitt.

Knuckler Makes Wynn Top Flight Twirler Again

By JOE REICHLER

Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Hoyt Wynn may own the best knuckle ball in the business but he doesn't have a copyright on the baffling pitch. The knuckler has made Earl Wynn a top flight pitcher again.

"Yeah," grinned the Chicago White Sox veteran, "I've been feeding the boys a little bit of the old knuckler this year. For years they've been accusing me of throwing it when I didn't even know how to hold it. So this year I figured I might as well throw it."

Wynn, primarily a fast ball pitcher with a sharp curve and a good slider, adopted a new pitch for obvious reasons. Winner of 20 or more games for three successive seasons, the 39-year-old right-hander slumped to 14 victories in each of the 1957 and 1958 seasons.

Wynn currently is tied with Wilhelm for the most victories in the league. Each has nine. The Chicago owns the most lifetime victories among all active pitchers in the majors with 258.

Young Milt Pappas Halts Orioles' Skid Into Cellar

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Young Milt Pappas has his first major league shutout, and he couldn't have picked a better time to nail it.

The big Baltimore right-hander, 20, dropped Detroit's hitters 4-0 with a two-hitter Wednesday night and halted the Orioles' skid in the American League race.

Pappas, signed two years ago off the Detroit sandlots, struck out six and didn't walk a man. He had a perfect game going until Lew Burberot got the first of the Tigers' two singles with two out in the fifth inning. The other hit, in the sixth, was by Jim Bunning, who allowed only four Baltimore hits and had a perfect game for 4-1-3 innings. But he lost for the third time in his last four decisions.

Pappas retired the last 11 men in a row while gaining a 5-3 record.

That left the fourth-place Birds, who have lost five of seven since tying for first last week, 3½ games behind Cleveland's league-leading Indians, whose game at Boston was postponed because of cold weather. The loss barred the Tigers, who had won three straight, from a second place tie with the Chicago White Sox, beaten 7-3 at New York. Washington escaped a last-place tie with Boston by beating Kansas City 7-2.

The Orioles, who had lost three straight, broke through Bunning's perfect spell when Gus Triandos and Chico Carrasquel hit solo home runs in the fifth inning. A single by Al Pillarick, Gene Woodling's triple and an error produced the other two Oriole runs in the seventh.

The fifth place ankees returned to .500 with their second straight over the White Sox Mickey Mantle's 14th homer, a two-on walkoff into the third deck in right field at Yankee Stadium, capped a wrap-up, five-run second inning against loser Ray Moore 1-5.

Milwaukee Loses Tenth Of Last 15 Games In National

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

What's with the Milwaukee Braves?

They've lost 10 of their last 15 and have been shut out three times in the last five games. Is this the beginning of the end to their hold on the National League pennant? Or is this just another of those slumps, such as they had and shrugged off while winning the flag the past two years.

Either way, they have only a half-game edge left from what was a bulging, 4½-game lead a month ago after dropping a two-night doubleheader at Los Angeles Wednesday night. They were checked on five hits by lefthander Sandy Koufax, while losing the opener 10-2, then were blanked on two hits by Danny McDevitt, another lefty, as the Dodgers took the second game 4-0.

That put second place San Francisco, a 7-5 winner over Cincinnati, just one game behind in the "lost" column and within .009 percentage points of the champs. The sweep hoisted the Dodgers into fourth place, one percentage point behind Pittsburgh after the Pirates' 5-2 loss to the Chicago Cubs. Both the Dodgers and Bucs are only 2½ games from the top.

St. Louis whipped Philadelphia 10-4 in the other NL game.

Los Angeles broke through a two-hit shutout by Joey Jay 2-5 in the seventh of a bases-loaded walk and an infield out, then added two in the eighth off Bob Trowbridge on a single by Don Demeter and Gil Hodges' double.

Cal Neeman, who singled and scored the tying run in the seventh for the Cubs, hit a three-run, inside-the-park homer in the eighth to beat Pirate southpaw Harvey Haddix (4-5), who has lost four to Chicago. Bill Henry (5-3) won it in relief.

The Cards made it 9 out of 11 with Ray Jablonski and Bill White each driving in three runs. A five-run fifth put it away against reliever Humberto Robinson (1-1) while lefty Marshall Bridges held the Phils to five hits and one run for a winning, 5 1/3-inning relief job in his major league debut.

Brundage Insists He Is Staying Out of Politics

PARIS (AP)—Avery Brundage, president of the International Olympic Committee, says the American people, including President Eisenhower, have the wrong idea of the committee's position in regard to Nationalist China.

"Far from meddling in politics, Brundage says, the IOC is trying to stay out of politics. And instead of barring the Nationalists from the Olympic competition, it is trying to effect a compromise that will permit them to compete.

Brundage's statement was made in reply to the President's remark at a news conference Wednesday that the IOC had strayed into political fields in refusing to accept Nationalist Chinese athletes as representatives of the Republic of China.

Eisenhower pointed out that 45 nations recognize the Republic of China government and consider Formosa as the temporary abode of the government. Then he added:

"Frankly it seems to me that the Olympic Committee has gotten into politics rather than merely into international athletics."

Casper Among Starters At Canadian Tourney

MONTREAL (AP)—The weather and the condition of the Islesmere course appeared to be two big factors to consider today as a 149-man field, including Bill Casper the newly-crowned U. S. Open champion, began play in the Canadian Open Golf Championship. Fresh from the U. S. Open, played in changeable weather, the touring pros had been expecting to give shorter Islesmere a licking. They changed their tune after a couple of days of practice over the 6,895-yard, par 36-38-72 layout.

Four Ex-Champs Agree Ingemar In Wonderful Shape

GROSSINGER, N.Y. (AP)—Is Ingemar Johansson a bum or is he holding back in training?

The chances are the question won't be answered until the night of June 25 when the Swedish challenger steps into the ring against world heavyweight champion Floyd Patterson at Yankee Stadium in New York.

His workout Wednesday was a typical one for the solidly built 26-year-old from Goteborg. He showed a snappy, sometimes stiff left jab against three regular sparring partners and his brother, middleweight Rolf. The touted right hand again was used sparingly and once more without power.

The seven-round boxing drill was watched by four ex-champions, Jersey Joe Walcott and Jimmy Braddock (heavyweights) and Gus Lesnevich (light heavyweight) and Barney Ross (lightweight and welterweight).

All agreed on one thing, Ingemar is in wonderful condition.

Patterson Tells How He Grades Self After Fight

CHATHAM, N.J. (AP)—If Junior's report card wasn't up to snuff, don't blame the teacher. Just give thanks that Floyd Patterson wasn't grading the papers.

The heavyweight champion must be the toughest marker in the world. He once gave himself only 11 per cent in one of his title defenses. In fact the highest grade he has ever handed out was 70 per cent for his effort against Archie Moore the night he won the crown.

"After every fight I grade myself," Floyd said. "After Moore it was 70 per cent. That had to be my most important fight. It was the night I won the title. Against Hurricane Jackson the second time I gave myself 65.

"Roy Harris? (he shrugged as though disgusted with himself). I gave myself about 11 that night. And Brian London? Oh, about 45 per cent."

Diz Dean Leads Gas House Gang Reunion Program

ST. LOUIS, Mo. (AP)—The fearless, brawling Gas House Gang sounded more like a group of altar boys Wednesday night until Jerome Dizzy Dean took the microphone.

Old Diz brought the 25th anniversary ceremonies to life and showed 16,767 fans what they have been missing all these years.

Dizzy started slowly by saying how glad he was to be back in St. Louis, "where I was, after all, a pretty fair country pitcher."

He called St. Louis fans the "greatest in the country" and offered this prediction: "There won't be any clubs moving away from this town at all... no more." This was a reference to the old St. Louis Browns.

As an encore Dean took the microphone again and stomped out the Mudcat Band tune he had made famous, "Wabash Cannonball."

Diz was through then, but he had only started the show. Pepper Martin, Rip Collins, Joe Ducky Medwick, and others took a turn at bat while Dizzy—now 255 pounds and white haired—fogged them in.

Medwick gave the fans a thrill by going for the left field bleachers. One of his drives made it but was barely foul.

While Medwick was in left field the famed "battle of produce row" of the seventh game of the 1934 World Series was re-enacted. A few fans tossed vegetables on the field as part of the act, and Medwick was escorted off the field. Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick—chin on hands in the manner of the late Commissioner Kenesaw Mountain Landis—ruled that Medwick would have to leave the game.

By the way, the Cardinals won the seventh game 11-0 over Detroit.

Scranton Woman New President of Synodical Society

GROVE CITY (AP)—Mrs. Kar. Conrad of Scranton was re-elected today for another one-year term as president of the Pennsylvania Synodical Society, United Presbyterian Church in the U. S. A.

She was selected by woman commissioners at the close of the Synod of Pennsylvania's annual four-day meeting.

The Synod selected Grove City College again as the site for its meeting next year. The meeting date will be determined later.

The Revs. James Reid and Frank Lawrence, of Indiana, Pa., were authorized to select a Christian campus worker at Indiana State Teachers College.

William L. Murray of Harrisburg accepted an invitation to serve the Synod as architectural consultant. He will work with architects of individual site selection and church construction.

At Wednesday's session, the Synod endorsed a proposal supporting planned parenthood. It also agreed to share in the cost of a $1,229,000 united church center which is to be built by the Pennsylvania Council of Churches in Harrisburg.

U.S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was preparing to insist on a quick windup of the conference, however the bargaining went.

The Western plan was delivered to Gromyko Tuesday night. The Western ministers went into the conference session Wednesday afternoon expecting it to be a crucial meeting.

It turned out to be the shortest so far. Gromyko did most of the talking, for about 15 minutes. Fifteen more minutes were occupied in translating his remarks from Russian. Then the session ended.

100 Persons Hurt

(From Page One)

"The tornado must have lasted two minutes. As soon as it let up, I shouted 'Count off.' I want to hear seven voices." And, thank God, they all spoke up. We got out of there."

John Brandt, 54, said he and his wife were in their small apartment when something wrenched their front window out of its frame.

"We ran into the bathroom," Brandt said. "I braced my back against the door and my feet against the bathtub. If I hadn't the tornado would have been in there with us."

City police, sheriff's deputies, a Florida Highway Patrol detachment, and Civil Defense auxiliaries shunted curiosity-seekers away from the area and guarded against looting from stores and homes where building fronts stood wrenched open.

"Everything we had is gone leveled," said Dr. George Ferro. "My $40,000 house is destroyed. There's a grapefruit tree where our living room was — our pool's been ripped out of the ground."

In a single block of north Bayshore Drive, in the area of greatest destruction, more than a dozen automobiles lay overturned or crumpled. Some had been slammed against buildings.

When word of the find spread, police were notified of bones lying on the south bank of Allegheny River across from Warren General Hospital. Officer William Hewitt of the boro police force removed a rib for investigation, which found the bones to be that of a deer.

John dropped his two guns and surrendered when 12 state troopers, all with guns blazing, pumped four bullets into the younger Coyle.

Each of the Coyles had fired on the police with guns in both hands, but none of the troopers was touched.

The gunfight ended one of the most intensive manhunts in Massachusetts history. More than 300 policemen had kept the Coyle brothers in a five-square-mile swampy woodland since last Monday.

Constitution Designed To Unite Denominations

By GEORGE W. CORNELL
Assoc. Press Religion Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A constitution designed to unify two Protestant denominations was released today. It provides for regulation at the top and freedom at the bottom.

The document, proposed for the new United Church of Christ, has been a matter of keen interest.

In setting forth a joint structure for the two bodies—the loosely knit Congregational Christian churches and the centrally organized Evangelical and Reformed Church—it combines elements of both.

Strange Infection in Hospital Identified

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—The infection that made 108 persons ill — including many doctors and nurses — at Philadelphia General Hospital has been diagnosed as bacillary dysentery.

Dr. Sylvan Fish, head of the City Health Department communicable disease division, said today laboratory studies turned up the organism causing the dysentery.

A hospital spokesman said the outbreak is dying out.

Dr. Fish said the best guess is that the disease was carried in milk.

Commissioner Studies Blue Cross Rate Hike

HARRISBURG (AP)—State Insurance Commissioner Francis R. Smith expects to decide within a few days how much of a rate increase to grant four major Blue Cross plans in Pennsylvania.

As hearings ended on the applications Wednesday, Smith left little doubt that he would approve a major portion, if not all, of the additional revenue asked by each of the plans. They serve a majority of the state's pre-paid hospital insurance subscribers.

Seeking rate boosts are the Hospital Service Assn. of Western Pennsylvania, the Associated Hospital Service of Philadelphia, The Capital Hospital Service, Harrisburg, and the Hospital Service Assn. of Northeastern Pennsylvania, Wilkes-Barre.

Long States

The big question now: Will Long run again? Will his health permit it? Will he call a special legislative session to resurrect some of his pet bills that failed in the fiscal session?

Long slipped quietly and without comment into the privately owned general hospital after a plane flight from Galveston.

He immediately requested a bowl of peaches and cream. From his fifth-floor corner room he could see the big river bridge by Huey P. Long, the late Louisiana governor and U. S. Senator.

The plane flight home began just 16 minutes after Probate Judge Hugh Gibson of Galveston County had released the governor from the protective custody of the John Sealy Hospital.

His wife had signed commitment papers June 2, three days after six men had been needed to place the governor on a stretcher for a flight to Galveston. Mrs. Long claimed her husband was physically and mentally exhausted. Wednesday she and Texas attorneys negotiated nearly seven hours before reaching the agreement that led to Gibson's dismissal order.

Mrs. Long said the governor had agreed to remain at Ochsmar's two weeks or longer, if necessary.

John dropped his two guns and surrendered when 12 state troopers, all with guns blazing, pumped four bullets into the younger Coyle.

Each of the Coyle's had fired on the police with guns in both hands, but none of the troopers was touched.

The gunfight ended one of the most intensive manhunts in Massachusetts history. More than 300 policemen had kept the Coyle brothers in a five-square-mile swampy woodland since last Monday.

The document, proposed for the new United Church of Christ, has been a matter of keen interest.

In setting forth a joint structure for the two bodies—the loosely knit Congregational Christian churches and the centrally organized Evangelical and Reformed Church—it combines elements of both.

Long States

The big question now: Will Long run again? Will his health permit it? Will he call a special legislative session to resurrect some of his pet bills that failed in the fiscal session?

Long slipped quietly and without comment into the privately owned general hospital after a plane flight from Galveston.

He immediately requested a bowl of peaches and cream. From his fifth-floor corner room he could see the big river bridge by Huey P. Long, the late Louisiana governor and U. S. Senator.

The plane flight home began just 16 minutes after Probate Judge Hugh Gibson of Galveston County had released the governor from the protective custody of the John Sealy Hospital.

His wife, had signed commitment papers June 2, three days after six men had been needed to place the governor on a stretcher for a flight to Galveston. Mrs. Long claimed her husband was physically and mentally exhausted. Wednesday she and Texas attorneys negotiated nearly seven hours before reaching the agreement that led to Gibson's dismissal order.

Mrs. Long said the governor had agreed to remain at Och-sner's two weeks or longer, if necessary.

County G.O.P. Planning Meeting To Fill Vacancy

According to a letter mailed to members of the Warren County Republican Committee under the signature of Miss Sunny Lucia, vice chairman, plans are under discussion for a meeting in the near future for the purpose of electing a successor to the late Chairman Alvan M. Gibson, and endorsement of a candidate to fill the seat in the General Assembly made vacant by his passing.

The new committee head will be chosen by election at a meeting of the organization; the procedure to fill the vacancy in General Assembly would be for the Speaker of the House to issue a writ of election, with each political party to select a candidate to appear on the ballot. Ample notice of the date and place of the meeting will be given members of the committee. Latest to announce as a candidate for General Assembly on the Republican ticket is Attorney J. H. Goldstein, former district attorney of the county, long prominent in Republican affairs in the county and district. Previously announced are Attorney John H. Stewart, and Emmens Jones, both of this city. District Attorney Samuel Bonavita has announced as a candidate for the chairmanship of the Committee. No announcement has been made as to plans of the County Democratic organization in regard to the endorsement of a candidate for Assembly. Local political leaders are of the opinion that the post will be filled by election on the November ballot.

Opinions Differ Over Educational Hearings

HARRISBURG (AP)—Democratic members of a Senate committee investigating the Public Instruction Department contend that public hearings have failed to prove charges of mismanagement against the department. Sen. Harry E. Seyler (D—York) claimed the department had been completely vindicated Wednesday as the five-member committee called a halt to its three-month investigation. Sen. Jo Hays (D—Centre) said he was gratified with the outcome and felt the hearings had shown there was no basis for the charges. The investigation started after Sen. George N. Wade (R—Cumberland) charged mismanagement and unauthorized spending. Wade later was named committee chairman.

Identi-Kit Big Aid To Law Enforcement

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The sheriff's office here has a new identification system it describes as the greatest help to law enforcement since fingerprints. Sheriff Peter Pitchess said his men now can assemble in about 20 minutes the likeness of a criminal suspect drawn from descriptions of witnesses. The system is based on a device called Identi-Kit in which the suspect's image emerges by use of overlaying transparent films. Each of the films bears a line drawing of a coded facial characteristic. A total of 62 billion facial combinations are possible by using the 500 transparent films. The system was developed after 16 years research by the department's chief, Hugh C. McDonald.

Union Officials at Erie Appeal Decision

ERIE, Pa. (AP) — Two officials of Local 613, International Union of Electrical Workers, have filed an appeal with the State Supreme Court against a ruling citing them for civil contempt of court. The contempt citation stemmed from a charge by the Erie Resistor Corp. that the union had violated an Erie County Court order restricting picketing at the company's four strike-bound plants here. Local president Edward Bordonaro and vice president Edward Karpinski appealed to the Supreme Court Wednesday on a contention that the company charges were for indirect criminal contempt and not for civil contempt.
